REPORT REDS BIDDING FOR PEACE

British Liner Dodges Subs, Safe In N. Y.

New Ohio Representatives On The Job

DANGER OVER FOR LARGEST, FASTEST SHIP

$28,750,000 Queen Elizabeth Runs 3,000-Mile Gauntlet to Reach Safety in U. S.

DRESSED IN 'WAR PAINT'

Planes Sight Majestic Vessel Running at Top Speed; New Berth Being Rushed.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK — With the "red duster" Union Jack proudly flying at her mast, Britain's new $28,750,000 liner Queen Elizabeth—the largest, fastest ship afloat—arrived within the safety of New York harbor waters today at the end of her bold dash 3,000 miles across the Atlantic.

Painted a drab gray, the 85,000-ton liner passed Ambrose Lightship shortly after 9 a. m. (EST) and headed toward the Narrows, past winter-deserted Coney Island, with the skyline of New York 20 miles distant.

A war-time fugitive, fleeing the dangers of German bombing assaults in her Clyde river berth in Scotland, the Queen Elizabeth successfully evaded the threat of German undersea attack and triumphed in its risk of a mortal blow against British claims of supremacy of the sea.

Planes flying out of New York first sighted the Queen "looking like a dirty gray whale" off Fire Island, cutting up a mile-long wake as her giant engines turned up apparently close to her top speed of more than 32 knots.

Only a few figures were seen on the decks, and from the planes there was no indication that the world's largest ship even had a name painted on her gray-smudged prows.

Wave Union Jack.

Not until a TWA plane made a second circle over the Queen Elizabeth did the ship even make her nationality known. On the second

Baltic Capitals Hear of Action To Mediate War

Rumors Persist That Germany, Sweden Work Together To End Conflict With Finland; Reports Also Heard of Finn Rejection.

(By United Press)

COPENHAGEN, Denmark — Persistent reports were circulated in Baltic capitals today that Russia was seeking mediation to end the Russo-Finnish war.

There were several versions, one that Russia had approached Sweden alone, another that Sweden and Germany were working together on Russia's initiative, a third that Finland had already declined Swedish mediation because Russia's terms were too drastic.

A fourth version, published by the Berlingske Tidende here today, was that not only Sweden, Germany and Russia but Finland itself were engaged in the peace effort.

Berlingske Tidende's dispatch asserted that though official confirmation was lacking there was unimpeachable evidence that peace negotiations were going on at Stockholm, with Russians, Finns, Swedes and Germans taking part.

According to this report, preliminary negotiations had been going on between Russia and Finland for several days. J. E. Erkko, Finnish minister to Sweden, and Mme. Alexandra Kollontai, Russian minister, were participating in negotiations with the Swedish foreign office and that J. K. Paasikivi, minister without portfolio in the Finnish government, was in Stockholm in behalf of the Finnish government.

Otto Dietrich, German Nazi press chief, was said to be here, as well as one General Rosenbroyer, representing Field Marshal Baron Gustav Mannerheim, Finnish commander in chief. Rosenbroyer was said to have consulted Dr. Wipert Von Blucher, German minister at Helsinki, before he went to Stockholm.

This dispatch said also that Axel Wenner-Gren, internationally known Swedish capitalist, had returned hastily to Stockholm from Paris to join in the negotiations. It was asserted that he had accompanied Sumner Welles, President Roosevelt's special envoy to Europe, to Italy, gone on to Paris and then come here. Wenner-Gren has important interests in Finland.

Viipuri Situation 'Grave.'

The peace reports reached Copenhagen along with Swedish reports that the Finnish position at Viipuri was grave and that the possibility of allied intervention must be considered seriously.

As the reports were published Scandinavian newspapers made the assertion that the allies were planning to land troops for Finland in the Scandinavian countries and that the plans must be firmly opposed. Tidningen, leading conservative newspaper of Sweden, said:

"No foreign troops will ever be permitted to cross our neutral territory. Our neutrality obliges us to reject and hinder any attempt to send troops via Sweden. . . Grotesquely but logically we may be obliged to fight to prevent others from helping Finland."

The Russians were attacking the west shore of Viipuri bay with terrific impact. It was indicated, using tanks and armored sledges in cooperation with infantry in advances across the tumbled lake ice. The Finns were believed to be making a desperate effort to get men and guns to the scene, foreseeing an attempt to attack the Mannerheim from the rear as the

Breaks Both Legs In 35-Foot Fall at Plant

Steel Worker Seriously Hurt As Scaffold On New Westinghouse Industrial Bridge Gives Way; Lands On Drive.

William C. Miller, 30 year-old structural steel worker was in the General hospital today with both legs broken and a back injury, sustained when a scaffold on which he was working on the new Westinghouse bridge gave way and he fell 35 feet to the ground.

The accident occurred about 10 a. m. while Miller was engaged in putting on siding on the overhead structure.

Witnesses said the planking on the scaffold broke and Miller fell through to the ground 35 feet below. They said he landed on his feet on a cinder drive into the Westinghouse parking lot on East Fifth street near Purdy street.

An ambulance was called and he was removed to the hospital where attendants said both legs were broken. He also suffered a back injury. They reported his condition as "fair."

Officials at Westinghouse said the man was employed by the American Steel Band company, Pittsburgh, which has the contract for placing the steel sheeting on the overhead bridge which will connect the main plant with the enameling works.

The accident is the first to occur since the construction work was started several months ago, company officials said.

Miller's home is in Pittsburgh. He is married but has no children, it was reported.

STUDENTS END SCHOOL STRIKE

'Ringleaders' Suspended As Rest Go Back To Classes.

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Suburban Strongsville high school had three fewer students today as the aftermath of a 45-minute sit-down "strike."

Principal M. L. Royer said 30 students staged the demonstration to protest the expulsion of Harold Kirby, 18-year-old senior basketball player.

Royer said he told the 30 pupils, gathering in the school gymnasium, "to talk it over," with the choice of going back to classes or going home. If they went home, he warned, they could not return unless accompanied by their parents. They all returned to classes.

MANTON JAILED

Former Judge Surrenders to Begin Prison Sentence.

NEW YORK —(AP)— Martin T. Manton, former presiding judge of the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals, surrendered today to the United States marshal to begin a two year prison term for selling justice.

Manton, his face cast in its usual scowl, went to the United States court house at 9:25 a. m. and walked directly to the office of Leo Lowenthal, the marshal.

He is to serve his sentence in the federal penitentiary at Lewisburg, Pa., where numerous men on whom he once passed judgment have paid their penalty for breaking the law.

The former jurist, who is approaching 60, was convicted last June 3.

5 DIE IN BLAZE

Mother, 4 Children Perish When Flames Sweep Small Home.

MOUNT PLEASANT, Tenn. — (AP)—Mrs. Gilliam Mosley, 39, and four of her children burned to death early today when fire destroyed their three-room home.

The children were Jimmy, 20, Lee Irwin, 17, Sadie, 7, and Marjorie, 5. Two other children were away from home.

Origin of the fire was not determined.

WENT TOO FAR

Motorist Makes Own License Tags, They Were a Bit Too Shiny.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. —(AP)— Lee Becker, a strong believer in individual initiative, went just a little too far when he made his own license plates.

Policemen, attracted by the brilliant lustre of the tags and an early series number, arrested Becker who told them he had fashioned the plates out of a stove pipe.

DEAD 12 HOURS, FOUND

NEW CONCORD —(INS)— Heart disease was blamed today for the death of Mrs. Mary Smith, 70, whose body was discovered in her home by neighbors. She had been dead 12 hours.

BAER SLATED AS DEM DELEGATE

Central Committee Head Due to Be Chosen as Candidate for 17th District Post.

Gustav A. Baer, chairman of the Richland county Democratic central committee, who has represented the party in some form or another for nearly a quarter of a century, is slated to go to the Democratic national convention this year as the 17th congressional district delegate, party leaders said today.

Baer is due to be chosen as the 17th district candidate when the county executive committee meets Saturday to recommend its slate of candidates for the state and national conventions.

Leaders of the 17th district agreed a month ago to let Richland Democrats select the candidates for district delegates from this county which is tantamount to election.

Ashland county was granted the selection of the alternate.

Baer will be pledged to vote for National Committeeman Charles Sawyer as the favorite son candidate of Ohio Democrats. The Ohio delegation, however, will back President Roosevelt for a third term if his name comes before the convention.

Tomorrow night the Richland county Republican executive committee will meet at its headquarters to recommend a slate of 13 delegates and 13 alternates candi-

WARDEN SCOFFS AT 'KIDNAPING'

All Ohio Guards Have Orders To Shoot To Kill, He Says.

COLUMBUS—(INS)—The scheme of several Ohio penitentiary convicts to kidnap Warden Frank D. Henderson and use him as a shield in an escape attempt was branded by the warden today as "just an extra frill."

"It wouldn't have done them any good," he commented as he discussed the escape plot, which was nipped by the seizure of a 30-foot rope and other contraband. "Every guard has orders to shoot to kill, whether he hits me or the convict holding a knife at my throat."

The warden said he would reveal the names of the convicts involved, five of whom are now in solitary confinement, in two or three days.

HE COOPERATES

Weatherman Brings Spring for Spring Display Days.

Acting on instructions from the Mansfield Retail Merchants association, the weatherman today brought out his nicest weather in months for the opening of Spring Display Days.

It was just about the first day that women could go without galoshes or overshoes, the first day in weeks that the sun did anything more sustained than pop out and pop back again behind the clouds, and it gave splendid support to the display windows of downtown merchants which were blooming with colors that made even Mother Nature sit up and take notice.

The new merchandise—especially the pre-Easter wearing apparel—is a reminder that spring is only 14 days away by the calendar and that Easter is just around the corner—on March 24. Displays will remain in windows through Sunday.

The annual spring event also ushers in a bingo and jingle contest in which $100 in cash will be awarded winners.

INGALLS SEES LANDON

TOPEKA, Kans. — (AP) — David Ingalls, Cleveland, campaign manager for Sen. Robert A. Taft, conferred here yesterday with former Gov. Alf M. Landon regarding Taft's candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination.

STALLS LIQUOR CASE ACTIONS

Court's Ruling on Insolvency Act Puts Damper on Plan to Free 2 Others.

The refusal yesterday of Common Pleas Judge C. H. Huston to grant a writ of habeas corpus for the release of Mrs. Mark Kirkendall, 40, from the county jail today apparently had stalled attempts to free two other prisoners who were sent back to jail four days ago to serve out fines for liquor law violations.

Attorneys for Mrs. Dorothy Williams, 39, and Roy Mason, 32, whose applications for release under the Ohio Insolvency act are scheduled for hearing tomorrow, said they had virtually given up plans to file habeas actions even if the two prisoners are denied freedom at Friday's hearing.

The insolvency hearing will be conducted by Probate Judge C. J. Anderson if he returns from a Florida vacation in time and by Judge Huston if Judge Anderson fails to get back by tomorrow.

In his decision yesterday on the petition seeking the release of Mrs. Kirkendall, Judge Huston overruled the probate court order which freed the three prisoners several weeks ago. He cited supreme court rulings which held

DR. JOHN FINLEY STRICKEN IN N. Y.

Educator, Editor Emeritus Of Times, Dies In Sleep.

NEW YORK—(AP)—Dr. John H. Finley, educator and editor emeritus of the New York Times, died in his sleep today.

Dr. Finley, who was 75, recently underwent an operation for hernia in the Columbia Presbyterian medical center, but his rugged physique apparently brought about a quick recovery.

He returned to his home at One Lexington avenue about three weeks ago. It was there he died.

OLDEST TWINS 91

City Gets Taste Of Spring Still Two Weeks Away

It's still more than two weeks until spring—even if the sun did shine today and the mercury went up above freezing—and the weatherman won't let Mansfielders forget it.

While the bright sunshine and almost balmy temperatures were inspiring plans for gardens and housecleaning, the weatherman came right out and said there will be more snow tonight and Friday.

The snow won't bring much change in temperature and there's no cold in sight, he said.

The lowest recorded in Mansfield this morning was 24 degrees and by noon the mercury had gone all the way up to 38.

Although it was chilly today over most of the midwest, the lowest reading in the nation was 12 above zero in northern Michigan.

FACTIONS AGREE

Labor Group, Citizens' League Set Up Redistricting Plan.

CLEVELAND — (INS) — The Cleveland federation of labor, central A. F. of L body, and the Citizens league today agreed on a compromise plan for redistricting the state, to be submitted to Attorney General Thomas J. Herbert before initiative petitions are circulated to put it on the ballot as a consitutional amendment.

The plan calls for division of Ohio into 35 state senatorial districts of approximately 200,000 population each. One senator and four representatives would represent each district.

Also provided for is establishment of a board of apportionment made up of the governor, the secretary of state and the state auditor, and the possible alteration of national congressional districts on a population basis.

DEFIES CO-EDS

College Student Runs For Queen of May Crown.

HOUSTON, Tex.—(AP)—A bold young male is campaigning against eleven co-eds for queen of the May at Rice institute because he is "fed up" with women invading fields once open only to men.

J. P. (just call me Petunia) Miller was nominated in a petition presented to the Rice women's council.

The election is Monday.

FOUND BEATEN

Columbus Woman, 76, Dead; Home Indicates Ransacking.

COLUMBUS—(AP)—The bruised, unclothed body of Miss Alice Lauterbach, 76 was found in the living room of her home today amidst evidence of a struggle. The house apparently had been ransacked.

Coroner E. E. Smith sought to ascertain if she had been slain.

A neighbor said Miss Lauterbach's clothing had been "torn off."

PARIS: Welles Arrives To Begin Interviews With French

(By Associated Press)

PARIS—Sumner Welles, United States undersecretary of state, arrived here today for his first interviews with leaders of the British-French allies on his fact-finding tour for President Roosevelt.

He was driven to his hotel in a bullet-proof automobile. When he received the press at the American embassy two hours after arriving here a police detail was posted outside the building.

Welles reiterated to newspapermen merely that he had "no proposals to make and no commitments to offer" for the United States government.

Receiving the American, British and French press corps in a body, the United States undersecretary warned that he had adopted a Lausanne newspaper's description of him, "mute as a carp."

He repeated assurances given in other capitals that nothing one party tells him during his trip will be referred to "directly or indirectly" in talks with other parties.

Answering a question, he said he intended to draw no comparisons for publication on effects of the war in various countries he visits and that he will make no visit to the war zone in France.

Welles' stiff schedule called for him to be received by President Albert Lebrun at Elysee palace, by Premier Daladier at the war ministry an hour later and by Auguste de Champetier de Ribes, French foreign affairs undersecretary, after still another hour.

Daladier will entertain him at dinner later with only a few others present.

Welles said he would fly to London Sunday and be in Paris for a few hours again next week en route to Rome, where he will spend two more days before sailing for the United States March 18.

'Sinking City' Residents Losing Life Savings as Earth Sags Into Mine Pits

Buildings, Homes Face Further Ruin While Sinking Continues.

(By United Press)

SHENANDOAH, Pa. — Leo Ploppert and his parents before him were hard-working people, who deserved what they managed to get.

Ploppert, born and raised in this hummock in the Mahonoy valley, had put practically every cent he could scrape together into his fine, two-story brick building at Coal and Market streets.

In the small hours of last Monday Ploppert was called by the police to go see what was happening to his building. He got there in time to see it shudder crazily, oscillate as though the upper and lower halves were on hinges and then assume a precarious equilibrium with the top story leaning to the east at a sharp angle to the rest of the structure.

Ploppert and Frank Ponuscan, manager of the auto parts store on the ground floor, broke down one of the jammed doors and found the interior of the building a ruin.

"I put $60,000 into that place," Ploppert wailed. "It's gone."

That is what happened to one man's fortune when the anthra-

LONDON: British Planes Over Germany; Nazis Bomb Ships

LONDON—(INS)—Aerial warfare between Britain and Germany intensified today as the air ministry announced still further British reconnaissance flights over Germany.

At the same time, it was disclosed that German planes carried out a series of raids up and down the British east coast during the night.

During the last two nights, British warplanes flew over many important towns in northwestern Germany, including the important North sea port of Wilhelmshaven.

Two German planes bombed and machine-gunned the 695-ton British tanker Shelbrit off the northeast coast of Scotland. One crew member was injured but the vessel returned safely to its port.

The Norfolk lightship sent out an SOS reporting a German plane was bombing and machine-gunning it, but later advised shore officials that the reich aircraft had missed its mark and that the lightship was not damaged.

Heavy flashes and detonations were reported off Sunderland and observers saw what appeared to

THEATERS

Mystery Film

An unusual new mystery film "Double Alibi," co-starring Wayne Morris, Margaret Lindsay and William Gargan will be seen at the Ohio theater Friday. Morris essays the triple role of a detective, a newspaper reporter and a widely sought murder suspect. Miss Lindsay and Gargan both appear as newspaper workers and Roscoe Karns is seen as the photographer of a big city daily.

Virginia Bruce Stars

Showing Friday and Saturday at the Majestic theater will be "Pioneers of the Frontier," and "Stronger than Desire." The rise of a new romantic team in Virginia Bruce and Walter Pidgeon is marked by their second appearance together in "Stronger Than Desire," a melodrama of society life in New York. It deals with a retaliatory flirtation by a suspicious wife which enmeshes her in blackmail and a murder mystery. Bill Elliott is the star of the former picture when Wild Bill Saunders. Legendary figure of the Old West, returns.

Western Life

One of western fiction's most popular characters comes to life in the person of Johnny Mack Brown who plays the title role in the modernized screen version of the novel "Chip of the Flying U." "Henry Goes Arizona," with Frank Morgan, Virginia Weidler, Guy Kibbee, Slim Summerville and Douglas Fowley, is the second feature at the Ritz. Frank Morgan turns cowboy singer for the first time in his career in this comedy of western life.

Renfrew of the Mounted

Lola Lane, Lawrence Gray and many other stars are seen in "They Went to War," which is showing at the Park theater, Friday and Saturday. Renfrew of the Royal Mounted in "Crashing Through" is the second feature, starring James Newill. This film depicts the efforts of the ace of the Canadian man-hunters to round up a ruthless mob of bandits that has escaped into the Canadian wilderness. Jean Carmen plays the role of Ann, sweetheart of Renfrew.

WAS COCKEYED WORLD IN 1500

At Least Map Shows Europeans Were Race of Pygmies.

HONOLULU— (AP) —What the world was like to some of his countrymen back in the 16th century is shown by a map possesed by Kenneth Ch'en, a Chinese instructor at the University of Hawaii.

Drawn by Matteo Ricci, a Jesuit missionary in China, it depicts a land of dwarfs in Europe where the people were one foot tall and were old at the age of 8.

It states that at Hormuz, in Asia, utensils were made of a mineral similar to salt and it was unnecessary to salt one's food.

Census Takers In Rockies Find Skis Necessary

DURANGO, Colo. — (U.P.) — The life of a census enumerator is a hard one in the high mountains of Colorado.

Deep snow and mountain gales make travel between the isolated crossroads stores, tiny communities and scattered ranch homes of this region difficult in winter—but the census is proceeding on schedule just the same.

George J. Dwire of Durango, area supervisor for the 1940 federal census, has hired expert skiers and men familiar with snowshoes to aid him.

A propeller-driven snow car which "goes like the wind" is taking equipment.

The snow car resembles an enclosed airplane cabin mounted on three skis—one in front and two behind. A propeller powered by a 70-horsepower motor will drive the sled at 80 miles an hour over hard snow and 120 miles an hour on ice. Dwire said the snow car will ascend a 45-degree slope at full speed.

In all the mountain country, Dwire said the enumerators make their trips between isolated communities and ranch homes at night, because there is less danger of snowslides after dark.

RENAME BALLIET

Election Board Members Hold Reorganization Meeting.

George C. Balliet, Democratic chairman of the Richland county board of elections for the past eight years, was re-elected for a two-year term at the reorganization meeting of the board yesterday.

Meeting at the courthouse, the board renamed A. F. Porter, Republican, clerk, and Walter B. Underwood, Democrat, deputy clerk.

Balliet and William Ferguson, Republican, were renamed to the election board last week for four years by Secretary of State Earl Griffith, on recommendation of their party executive committees.

Other members of the board whose terms do not expire until 1942 are George Williams, Republican, and Fred Bricker, Shelby, Democrat.

20TH OF OHIO IN U. S. JOBS

Civil Service Commission Lists 31,000 on Payroll.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The federal government, with a total of 923,856 civil employes, has 31,772 on its payroll in Ohio.

The Civil Service commission, making its figures public, emphasized that they had no relation to the number of legal residents of the state employed by the government.

Ohio's population of 6,733,000 was 4.64 per cent of the estimated national total of 144,985,000 in July, 1937. Federal workers in the state constituted 3.44 per cent of the total government employment, and .47 per cent of the state's population.

SCHOOL CHORUS GIVES OPERETTA

Springfield Township Students Stage Program Tomorrow.

The seventh and eighth grade chorus of Springfield Township school, Ontario, will present an operetta, "It Happened In Holland," at 8 p. m. Friday in the school auditorium.

Sixteen members of the two groups have leads in the production. They are Jean Clever, Burdell Rader, Carol Berry, Beverly Moss, Charles Snyder, Robert Daugherty, Junior Shrader, George Harriman, Eugene Ernsberger, Erma Mae Cotter, Mary Heichel, Richard Hunter, Arthur Kern, Calvin Heston, Chester Hellinger and Roland Lenhart.

The operetta, to be staged in two acts, is directed by Miss Gladys Arnholt. Miss Margaret Hysell is in charge of dances and Miss Martha Horne the costumes. Between acts Karl Krauss will give a violin solo.

RUPTURE

H. M. SHEVNAN, widely known expert of Chicago, will personally be at the Southern Hotel, Mansfield, Saturday only, March 9, from 9 A. M. to 6 P. M.

Mr Shevnan says: The Zoetic Shield is a tremendous improvement over all former methods, effecting immediate results. It will not only hold the rupture perfectly but increase the circulation, strengthens the weakened parts, thereby closes the opening in ten days on the average case, regardless of heavy lifting, straining or any position the body may assume no matter the size or location. A nationally known scientific method. No under straps or cumbersome arrangements and absolutely no medicines or medical treatments.

Mr. Shevnan will be glad to demonstrate without charge. Add. 6441 N. RICHMOND ST., Chicago. Large Incisional Hernia or rupture following surgical operation especially solicited.

IN THE RUHL BOOK

By OSCAR RUHL
News-Journal Sports Editor

FOSTORIA'S Ohio State league representatives will be affiliates of the Cincinnati Reds . . . if present negotiations do not flop. . . . Mansfield has seen the last of Russ Beichley as Akron West coach. Russ has taken over the freshman coaching duties at Akron U. . . . Some believe that Bob Gerber, Toledo sophomore ace, will develop into a better all-around cager than Chuck Chuckovits. . . . The Celtics did not beat the Rens in Cleveland the other night, the colored boys winning 48 to 36 . . . and the game ended with fists swinging . . . There was a basketball game played in Kenton some years ago that started with the score 1 to 0. As the two teams lined up at center for the opening tip-off, the referee noticed one of the forwards roughing an opponent in an attempt to get into better position. He called a personal and and the shot was converted. . . .

Rube Bechtel, of Toledo, who has served as any official at many Tyger games, was athletic director of Gene Tunney's regiment during the war.

Fremont Pilot Once Member of 'Big Four.'

RAY CALDWELL, who will manage Fremont this year, was a member of the "Big Four," which hurled the Indians to the pennant in 1920. . . . Martino Angelo, an old Mansfield wrestling favorite, felt a pain in his right arm in a recent match, but didn't make any fuss about it until after the finish. Then he had the arm X-rayed. It was broken in two places. . . . Larry Scott, Braves' groundkeeper, is due to check into town one of these days, and he will not carry a single scar from the serious burns he suffered in that Toledo explosion, we hear . . . Chief baseball talk around town yesterday concerned Paul Calvert, 21-year-old youngster, who showed the Indians a fast ball that came into the plate like a bullet.

They tell about a couple of old friends who took up golf. They had been playing pinochle together for years, but felt they needed more fresh air and exercise. They went out for their first game and, standing on the first tee, looked at each other questioningly. "Well, what will we play for?" asked one. "Let's make it the same as usual," the other finally suggested. "Five cents a hundred."

Switch In Gloves Confuses Greenberg.

WHAT confusion Hank Greenberg encounters in switching from first base to left field is centered in the glove. . . . The Tiger always wore the biggest first baseman's mitt in the business . . . New York's street sweepers have to be athletic. To qualify, he must run a certain distance, clear a 3-foot hurdle, continue running and climb and rescend a 7½-foot fence. Same goes for garbage collectors. . . . No one has ever rolled a perfect score in duckpins . . . Washington now has two of last year's 'losingest' pitchers Vernon Kennedy dropped 21 and Ken Chase 19, seven of the latter's losses coming by one run . . . Largest crowd ever to see a basketball game on a college court was 15,700 at Columbus last year when Minnesota fell before Ohio State, 31 to 30.

De Sales College Wins Cage Title

(By Associated Press)

The DeSales college cagers are again champions of the Michigan-Ontario conference. The Toledo team made it two straight titles by stopping Calvin college, of Grand Rapids, Mich., 57 to 44, last night. It was DeSales' ninth victory in 10 games and enabled the Sailors to finish the season with a record of 15 decisions and five setbacks.

Frankie Baumholtz, Ohio university forward, scored 20 points as his team defeated Dayton, 62 to 44, to boost his season total to 392 in 25 games.

Muskingum college announced that McCoy Mariner, freshman basketball coach, would become varsity pilot next season, succeeding Stu Holcomb who will remain at the New Concord school as football coach and director of physical education.

Mariner started as a player at Muskingum, leading the Muskies in scoring in 1931 and 1932. Holcomb is a former Ohio State university star. The team finished second in the Ohio conference this season. Wooster winning the title.

McNEILL TO SAIL

NEW YORK—(AP)—Don McNeill, Kenyon college star, was listed today among 18 tennis players who will sail Saturday to compete in the Bermuda championships next week.

FIGHT MANAGER DIES

TORONTO—(AP)—Charles Mendoza, 74, fight manager and trainer, Monday night handled Georgie Pace, of Cleveland, in his world bantamweight title bout with Lou Salica here. Last night he died, the victim of a heart attack.

Leads Scots

Gilbert "Pudge" Hole, above, generally selected for a forward post on All-Ohio Conference basketball all-star lineups, will be 21 years old March 13. His Wooster teammates gave him a coveted birthday present when they elected him to captain the Wooster team for the 1940-41 season. He is the son of Coach E. M. "Mose" Hole, of the Wooster Scots. Twenty-three years ago Coach Hole was given a similar honor by Wooster's 1916-17 team.

Westies Play E. Pittsburgh Quintet Here

Company's Teams to Perform at Mansfield High School Saturday Night.

A basketball program featuring the Westinghouse Electric company's East Pittsburgh plant quintet will be staged at Mansfield Senior high Saturday night.

The Pittsburgh combine, sporting a record of eight wins in 12 games, invades Mansfield to tackle the Mansfield plant cagers. A preliminary game between the Shelley Chocolates and the Yuncker Sports of the City Class A league will open the card at 7:30 o'clock.

Composed of members of the shop league in East Pittsburgh, the visiting five possess a high-scoring attack and in only two contests this season have failed to collect more than 50 points. In the 12 games the club has tallied 654 points, while holding the opposition to 528.

Coach Hank Richards will have Howard Poole, George Hummel, Bob Shade, Ray Friday, John Schuster and George Bosko available for the game.

Admission for the two-game attraction will be 20 cents for adults and 10 cents for children.

Maxin Cinches Chicago Title

Lad Who Beat Zacharias Wins Second Crown.

Joey Maxin, who beat Jake Zacharias of Mansfield in the Cleveland Golden Gloves tournament, decisioned Otto Stowe of Springfield, Ill., in Chicago last night to win the Tribune Tournament of Champions middleweight crown.

Maxin defeated Zacharias in an opening round bout of the Cleveland classic and went on to win the open division championship. He is a member of the Cleveland team which Beauford Glover, Mansfield lightweight will accompany to Boston for the national meet in April.

* * *

Knocked to the canvas in the first heat, Maxin rallied in the same stanza and had Stowe staggering. He won the next two frames with a powerful right-hand attack. Maxin defeated Harry O'Dell of Grand Rapids, Mich., in the semi-finals.

BOMBERS AND KNOCKERS WIN LEAGUE CONTESTS

The Bombers edged the Aces, 11 to 10, and the Knockers topped the Chargers, 8 to 6, in contests in the Ranger league at the Friendly House last night. Brooks was the individual star of the evening as he collected all the Knockers' points.

OHIOAN ANNEXES TITLE IN INTERSTATE SHOOT

KANSAS CITY—(AP)—Joe Hiestand, of Hillsboro, O., yesterday won the mixed 100's in the interstate trapshooting tournament, breaking 94 targets. He also tied with four others for the interstate flyer cup, won by Dr P E Strout of Philadelphia in a shoot-off.

PITTSBURGH—Walter Fridlak, 276, threw Jack Washburn, 280, Cleveland, 15:33.

Fears Giant Center

Hoffman Believes Tygers Will Have to Be at Their Best To Trim Fremont.

NOT altogether satisfied with the condition of several members of his squad who have been laid low by colds, Coach Vern Hoffman had his fingers crossed today as the Tygers continued drills for the appearance against Fremont Ross in a semi-final game of the district eliminations at Sandusky Friday night.

Big Russ Beer, Mansfield center, was one of the players nursing a cold, but Hoffman was hopeful that the tall pivot star would be available Friday.

"We'll need Beer in there against Ross because we'll need height," Hoffman declared.

Hoffman considers Friday's game as one of the toughest faced by the Tygers this season as the Little Giants are determined to win the title.

The Tyger tactician particularly fears Bob Shaw, Fremont center, who has scored something like 250 points this year. "We've got to stop Shaw to win," Hoffman figures.

But the Giants have another crack player in Dick Manahan, a forward, according to Hoffman, who also rates Forward Jack Carroll as one of the better performers in the tournament.

Mansfield and Fremont will play the first game on Friday's two-play card at 7:30 p. m., and Bellevue and Ashland will tangle an hour later.

The two winners will clash for the title and the right to represent the district in the state finals at 8:45 p. m. Saturday.

Walker Kayoes Shelby Heavy

Turns Trick in Seventh Round at Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI—(U P)—The lethal fists of Jack (Buddy) Walker, current Columbus heavyweight sensation, gave boxing a new shot in the arm in Cincinnati today.

Walker knocked out Ed (Tipperary) Murray of Shelby, O., in the seventh round last night to the huge enjoyment of some 2,500 paid customers.

Promoters immediately began looking for an opponent to fight the Columbus sensation here next Wednesday.

After a cautious start, Walker floored Murray with a right to the head in the second round and drew blood with rights and lefts to the face in the third. Murray faded badly in the fifth before Walker's rapid punches and took two counts of nine.

There were no knockdowns in the sixth stanza But in the seventh, Walker knocked Murray down for a nine-count. Murray got up only to receive a left to the head that reeled him into the ropes where he went down for the final count.

BUCKS MAJOR THREATS TO MICHIGAN REIGN

COLUMBUS (AP)—University of Michigan swimmers ruled heavy favorites today to capture their 11th western conference championship during the 15-year regime of Coach Matt Mann at the 1940 meet at Ohio State natatorium.

The Wolverines, bulwarked by two individual conference champions and brilliant sophomore replacements for graduated seniors, defend their 1939 tank crown tomorrow and Saturday. Ohio State's national A. A. U. team champions of last year are the only threat to Michigan supremacy.

Dairys Can Cinch Share of Title

A victory in the Senior Class A league at the Friendly House tonight will assure the Isaly Dairys of at least a share of the second half championship.

The Dairy five, undefeated in three starts in the half, meets the Moose Lodge club in the feature game at 8:45 o'clock.

Raemelton Farm and the Augustine Canfields open the program at 6:45, and the Rex Billiards and Daley Cafe five clash in the middle tilt.

Messimer High With 641 Total

Mansfielders Upset 2846 Pins to Lead Team Scoring In City League.

OPENING with a fat 247, Cy Messimer of the Greystone Nite club finished with games of 198 and 196 for a 641 total to lead the individual scoring in the City Class A league at the Meder alleys last night.

His series featured the Greystone team's two victories scored at the expense of the Weidner Pontiacs, who tumbled 2713 pins.

The Mansfielders spilled 2846 sticks to pace the team scoring Led by John Leppo's 632 and McBride's 607, the Mansfielders rolled scores of 989, 979 and 868 as they swept their series with the Ingram-Martin Oldsmobiles, who came through with a 2788. The Lutz Lumbers of Lexington won two games from the Long Bar in the other match.

Fritz Vogel of Shipping No 1 was high in the Westinghouse league with a 615 count. The only other 600 rolled in the league was contributed by Workman of the Box Shop, who hit those figures right on the nose.

Heffner, 'Hun' Clash Monday

Top Weekly Grapple Card In Armory Ring.

Jimmy Heffner, fiery Texan, who made his mat debut here in sensational style last Monday, is expected to make the most serious attempt that has yet been made to stop the mysterious masked wrestler who calls himself "The Hun" Monday night in the Armory ring.

On that date the Lone Star State grappler will face the black clad Nazi raider in a two out of three falls match with an hour and a half time limit.

Heffner is by far the classiest wrestler that has yet climbed through the ropes to face "The Hun" in a Mansfield ring, despite the fact that several good boys have attempted to stop the masked man.

Hailing from Sherman, Tex. but making his home at present on a farm near Linworth, O., Heffner is holder of the lightweight championship of the southwest and is rated one of the very foremost contenders for the world's lightweight wrestling championship.

Feller Needs Only Control to Become One of Game's Best

That's What His Manager Believes as He Watches Youngster's Steady Development.

FORT MYERS, Fla.—(AP)—Oscar Vitt, the old Detroit infielder, isn't yet dead certain that Bob Feller is destined to be baseball's greatest pitcher, but Oscar has his suspicions.

The Cleveland pilot's blue eyes light up when the subject swings around to the big boy from the corn country. He is getting a thrill out of handling Feller, watching the youngster steadily develop.

"Bob won 24 games last year and lost 9," he said, impressively. "I think I had to pull him from only three games. If he gets a little more control of his curve ball nobody will beat him. He'll be the greatest we ever saw.

"Some days now he is just as fast as Johnson ever was, and he has that curve that Johnson didn't have. If he had Derringer's control they would be lucky to get one hit a game off the kid. But he's putting that ball where he wants it better all the time, and he's only 21 now. Honest, I hate to say how great a pitcher he's liable to be."

"He's working on that curve. He's found out he can't let them get set all the time for his fast one. Just wait until he gets that sweeping curve of his cutting the corner every time. Then you won't be asking me how great a pitcher he is. You'll know."

Manager Oscar Vitt of the Cleveland Indians today called the first regular-Yanigan game for Friday morning. Joe Dobson and Willard Howell will pitch against Ken Jungels and Don Pulford in the training season's opener. The Indians will play Sunday as a preliminary to a community barbecue.

Rain and cool weather kept the tribe off the diamond during the morning. The team took calisthenics and played pepper ball on the grass adjoining the field.

Camp observers believe that the "regular" lineup, outside of pitchers, for tomorrow's game will not be much changed when opening day rolls around in the American league.

The Indians were cheered today when Mel Harder reported that

Sohioans Meet Yuncker Team

Westinghouse and Shelley Teams Play in Novelty Cage Contest.

DID you ever see a ghost walking . . . or running? Well, tonight they're going to be all over the place.

The place, in this instance, will be Mansfield high school, and the ghosts, of course, will be basketball players.

It will be the first presentation of the so-called ghost basketball in Mansfield, and the novelty game will share the billing with the first round championship playoff tilt in the City league between the Blue Goose Sohioans and Yuncker Sports.

The ghost game will follow the titular game, which is billed at 8 p. m.

The two teams will wear luminous jackets, one wearing crosses, the other X's. The gym must be perfectly dark during the ghost performance. The court is outlined as is the basketball, the backboards and baskets.

If you never saw a game played by persons sans arms, sans legs, sans heads, you'll have a chance tonight.

Two City league teams, Westinghouse Electrics and Shelley Chocolates, will battle in the ghost game.

The championship game may not be as colorful as the ghost event, but it should be a spectacular tussle. The game will find the Sports battling to remain in the championship picture.

A victory for the Sohioans will automatically give them the league title as they won the second round crown outright.

If the Sports win, an additional game will be necessary to determine the league honors.

Vanguard of 6,073 Teams to Roll In ABC Bowl Tonight

DETROIT—(AP)—The fortieth annual tournament of the American Bowling congress, a record-breaking affair even before the first ball rolls down an alley, opens a two-month stand tonight at the Fairgrounds coliseum.

Bowlers from all parts of the United States and from far-away Hawaii comprise the entry list of more than 30,000 scheduled to roll before the close of the tourney May 7.

"This is by all odds our greatest tournament," said Elmer H. Baumgarten, A. B. C. secretary, as workmen put the finishing touches on the 40 alleys of polished maple. "We have shattered all records—marks that were just dreams a few years ago."

The list of 6,073 team entries from 729 cities gave point to his remark. The previous record was the list of 4,957 teams entered in the 1938 tournament at Chicago.

FELLER NEEDS ONLY CONTROL TO BE GREAT

Nats' Bosses Sold on Rookie Infield.

ORLANDO, Fla. —(U.P.)— Owner Clark Griffith and Manager Bucky Harris of the Washington Senators were agreed today that the current team possesses the "best infield since 1933" the year Washington won its last pennant.

The Nats' bosses are delighted with the sure-handed performances of the four youths they stationed at the infield posts. Reading from third to first base, they are: Cecil Travis, a veteran of six years; Jimmy Profahl, $40,000 rookie from Minneapolis; Jimmy Bloodworth, who hasn't played 100 big league games in his life, and Jimmy Wasdell, who was shunted to the minors only last season.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. —(U.P.)—Former Cincinnati Southpaw Lee Grissom, now with the New York Yankees, said today that his arm felt "chipper as ever." Cautioned by Manager Joe McCarthy to ease up, Grissom allowed only one run in his three-inning stunt in the Yankees' first practice game of the spring yesterday.

LAKELAND, Fla. —(U.P.)— The Detroit Tigers planned a second intra-camp game today to show effects of their early workouts. Hank Greenberg, playing his first game as a left outfielder, starred in yesterday's contest by touching Freddie Hutchinson for a single and a triple and scoring two runs and driving in another. Hutchinson yielded five hits in three innings. His team lost 8-6. Charley Gehringer, veteran second baseman suffering from back pains, stayed on the sidelines and submitted to treatment.

Buc Rookie Turns Ankle In Game.

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif.—(U.P.) —Bob Elliott, Pirate rookie outfielder who starred as the regulars shut out the Yanigans, 8-0, the first camp game, today nursed a slightly turned ankle twisted as his spikes caught as he slid into second base. Elliott cracked out a triple and two doubles and fielded well before he was forced to retire. Newly-appointed Captain Arky Vaughan laced out the first Pirate home run of the season during the six-inning contest. Van Robays cracked out two triples, while Pitchers Bob Klinger, Max Butcher and Oadis Swigart held the Yanigans to two singles.

WINTER HAVEN, Fla.—(INS)— Manager Bill Terry's wide smile today was due to the superb performance of pitcher Carl Hubbell yesterday in his first appearance on the mound at the New York Giants' training camp. Hubbell allowed one single and no runs in his three innings of work.

CLEARWATER, Fla. — (INS) —Manager Leo Durocher of the Brooklyn Dodgers refused to be discouraged by the showing of Whit Wyatt, one of his dependable pitchers, in yesterday's training camp games which the Durochers won 11 to 2 from the Dressens. In the five inning contest, Wyatt gave away nine hits in two innings which were good for seven runs.

SARASOTA, Fla.—(INS)—Weather permitting, the Boston Red Sox will hold their first regular-yannigan game today. Jimmy Foxx hit two over the wall in yesterday's practice and Dom Di Maggio struck a couple against the wall.

AVALON, Cal.—(INS)—One hard all-around workout remained for the Chicago Cubs today before they play the first of four intra-club games tomorrow. Manager Gabby Hartnett has selected his ranking pitchers, Bill Lee and Claude Passeau, to work with the yannigans in the first game, while the young lefthanders, Ken Raffensberger and Verne Olson, will pitch for the regulars.

MINNOWS PROTECTED BY NEW STATE RULING

COLUMBUS —(INS)— All state-owned lakes and approximately one-third of Ohio's streams will be closed to the taking of bait, the state conservation commission announced today.

This action was approved by the state conservations and natural resources commission in its regular monthly meeting yesterday.

Medwick Returns Home, Refuses Card Offer.

ST. LOUIS —(U.P.)— Joe Medwick idled around his suburban home today and summed up his salary year with the succinct statement: "If Mr. Branch Rickey wants to talk terms, he'll have to come to me."

Medwick, who is demanding $20,000 from the St. Louis Cardinals for 1940, left the Cards' training camp at St. Petersburg, Fla., yesterday and flew here because Vice President Rickey failed to keep an appointment for a salary conference.

"Of course I want to play baseball this season," he said, "but not at the terms I've been offered. The next move is up to the club." The Cards have offered Medwick, who has won about every National league batting honor except that of home run king, the same salary he received last season, said to have been $18,000.

LEGAL NOTICE

James Lloyd Lawrence, residing at 2045 Hudson Blvd., Jersey City, N. J.; Whitworth College residence or business address Spokane, Washington; the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A., residence or business address, 156 Fifth Avenue, New York City, N. Y.; Ethel LaMer residing at Leonia, New Jersey, W. H. McGreevy residing at Carmen, Oklahoma; Urban B. McGreevy, residing at Great Bend, Kansas; Flora A. Acton residing at 306 Union Street, Madrid, Iowa; Charles Lawrence, William Lawrence, Nellie Lawrence Wise and Emma VanDevender whose addresses are Lexington, Illinois; and that of Vernon Hardy whose residence is unknown and can not be ascertained; that the heirs, devisees, legatees, administrators, executors and assigns of Vernon Hardy, deceased, are necessary parties to the final determination of the matters in the petition contained, and that their names and addresses are unknown to plaintiff and can not with reasonable diligence be ascertained, will take notice that on the 2nd day of March, 1940, the plaintiff Harry Palm, executor of the estate of Joseph E. Lawrence, deceased, filed his petition against the above named parties and others in the Probate Court, Richland County, Ohio, the same being cause No. 5764 in said court.

Plaintiff states in said petition that he is in doubt as to the true construction of the will of Joseph E. Lawrence, and can not safely proceed with the distribution without direction of the court and designates therein Items 4, 5, and 6.

The prayer of said petition asks the direction and judgment of the court on the provisions of said will upon which said claims have arisen so that plaintiff may be able to execute same properly and for such other relief as may be proper.

Said parties are required to answer or file briefs on or before May 4, 1940, as said case will be for hearing on said date.

A. S. BEACH,
Atty. for Harry A. Palm,
Executor of the Estate of Joseph E. Lawrence, deceased.

STOCKS RESUME CLIMB DESPITE PROFIT SELLING

Prices Maintain Forward Push After Active Opening; Bonds Improve.

NEW YORK—Stocks generally maintained a forward direction in today's market.

The pace slowed after an active opening as profit selling on Wednesday's bulge was encountered. Fractional gains, however, were in the majority.

Bonds improved with foreign dollar loans developing strength. Commodities were moderately higher and securities markets abroad fairly steady.

Traders were still a bit skeptical over business, national politics and war benefits to industry, brokers said, although market sentiment evidently was propped by the belief pessimism may have been overdone and at least a "technical" rally justified.

On the recovery side were further signs the recent economic recession was flattening out, although bets on an immediate resumption of the upswing were scarce.

Market students found satisfaction in the figures of the American Iron & Steel Institute disclosing ingot production during February, while dropping under the previous month, topped the comparable period a year ago by 30 per cent. Part of the decline from January was attributed to the shorter month and subsidence of new orders.

Holders of oil company shares noted reports from producing centers that few hopes were entertained of any drastic jump in oil exports to Europe unless the war becomes much more intense than is looked for at present European petroleum consumption, it was said, has been running at about 65 per cent of the normal peace-time rate. Increased war demand was believed to have been more than offset by rigid restrictions on public usage.

LOSE SAVINGS AS CITY SINKS

Buildings, Homes Face Further Ruin as Earth Continues to Sag Into Mine Pits.

cite galleries under Shenandoah's northwest residential and business district caved in.

In a greater or lesser degree it is the story of nearly 700 other property owners and families in the 10-block area which experienced what those who felt and saw and heard it called "a miniature earthquake."

The great majority of the 4,000 persons—shopkeepers, miners, mechanics, doctors, lawyers, teachers, relief clients—who live in the area are remaining in their cracked homes, but none of them knows for how long.

There have been further sinkings and new fissures have opened and old ones have widened. That process may stop today; it may go on for years; no one knows. All anyone can say for certain it that two mines—Kehley run and Indian ridge—underlie the town and that in one or both of them the earth had sagged to fill the empty spaces left by the coal diggers.

Whether the sinking process is likely to spread to other parts of town provided a fearsome element of suspense. The entire city is as thoroughly undermined as a house infested by termites and, as Anthony Alastick remarked, "What happened once can happen again."

Alastick runs a butcher shop and grocery store—possibly best-stocked one-room store in Pennsylvania. He is 68 and a "lith" and he used to be a miner—35 years ago.

"My place, it didn't hurt much," he said "My foundation was already cracked. This thing, it closes up the cracks tight again If they all like this, then it would be all right"

Harris Gozinsky's $40,000 fruit warehouse, a long, three story brick structure, was so badly cracked that State Inspector John P. McCormick—who will examine every building in the section—ordered him to raze it.

Nick De Crease's living quarters on Coal and Market streets were so badly damaged that he moved his family. But he kept open his barber shop there.

"Cave-ins may come and cave-ins may go," Nick said, "but this shop goes on forever."

ILL SIX WEEKS, DIES AT AGE 82

Mrs. Columbia Bush Succumbs at Home Near Shiloh.

SHILOH—Mrs. Columbia Anne Bush, 82, a native of West Virginia, died at her home, two miles southwest of Shiloh this morning. She had been ill for the past six weeks.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs Nelson Kearns, Chillicothe, and Mrs. Blaine Bush, Shiloh; five sons, Ira of Shiloh, Frank of Chillicothe, Manley and Lyde of Lexington and Clyde of Mansfield; two sisters, Mrs. Joseph Mathews of Cox's Mills, W. Va., and Mrs Alice Houghton of Mansfield, one brother, Peter Heckert of Versailles, four grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday at the United Brethren church near Chillicothe, and burial will be at Charleston.

BUYING POWER UP 500 MILLION FOR FARMERS

Crop Prices Increased by Five Per Cent as Goods Hold Same Level.

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON—Farmer purchasing power increased approximately $500,000,000 during the past year, the bureau of agricultural economics' price index report shows.

While the average of prices paid by farmers for manufactured goods remained unchanged, prices received by farmers for agricultural commodities increased more than 5 per cent.

The ratio of prices received to prices paid by farmers was 81 per cent of the 1910-1914 average on Jan. 15, an increase of three points over a year earlier. The increase between Dec. 15 and Jan. 15 was 2 points.

January Average High.

In mid-January farmers received an average of 99 per cent of the 1910-1914 level for their products. That was the highest in two years. They were paying 122 per cent of the pre-World war average for manufactured goods, a decline of 3 percentage points in two years.

Costs of manufactured goods, however, were only 76 per cent of the 1919-1929 average. Farm interests and taxes were 128 per cent of the pre-World war average.

The September rise in food prices carried that index to 114 per cent of the pre-World war level, but a subsequent decline dropped it to 107 in mid-January. Clothing prices were 125 per cent and furniture prices 133 per cent of pre-World war.

The late 1939 increase in grain and cotton prices were responsible for most of the 1939 increase in farm income. Total farm income, including government payments, was $8,518,000,000 in 1939, compared with $8,081,000,000 in 1938.

Wheat Prices Advance.

Wheat prices received by farmers increased from 57 to 84.5 cents a bushel in the 12 months ended Jan. 15. Corn prices averaged 45 cents a bushel on Jan. 15, 1939, and 53 cents on last Jan. 15. Oats increased from 26 to 36 cents a bushel in the same period.

Cotton prices advanced from 8.30 to 10 cents a pound during the year, adding approximately $80,000,000 to the value of the 1939 cotton crop. Produce prices increased slightly to add to the "butter and egg" income of farm housewives.

Prices received by farmers for meat animals changed very little, except for the sharp decline in hog prices. Average hog prices declined from $6.96 to $5.18 per 100 pounds during the year. Beef prices advanced from $6.86 to $6.94 and lamb prices from $7.33 to $7.57 per 100 pounds.

STATE OFFICERS TO TAKE PART IN P. T. A. SESSIONS

President and Treasurer of Ohio Congress to Speak at Conference Next Week.

Two officers of the Ohio Congress of Parent-Teachers', Mrs. C. Tracy LaCost, president of the congress, and Mrs. H. B. Goyert, treasurer, will come to Mansfield next Wednesday for the annual conference of the Northcentral Ohio P. T. A. conference.

Mrs. LaCost will be the speaker at the morning session and will head the discussion on youth work in the afternoon, while Mrs. Goyert will have charge of one of the panel discussions.

O. E. Hill, superintendent of public schools at Galion, will be on both the luncheon and afternoon programs. He will have charge of the discussion on "Education and High School associations" during the luncheon program, and in the afternoon will be one of the panel speakers on "Your Congress at Work."

The all-day conference, which will be attended by about 700 parents and teachers from the county and district, will be held at the new Johnny-Appleseed building.

Registrations will be made between 9 and 10 a. m. and will be followed by the morning program in charge of Mrs. I. W. Basinger, Mansfield, director of the Northcentral district.

Luncheon In Cafeteria.

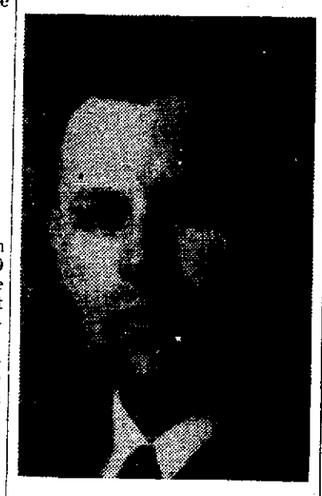
The luncheon and noon program will be held in the school cafeteria. The afternoon session opens at 2:15 and ends at 4 p. m. after which there will be a tea for visiting members of the district and a tour of the new school buildings.

A banquet is scheduled for 6 p. m. and the evening program takes the group back to the auditorium where members will be addressed by Rev. Neil Crawford of Athens.

A number of new names have been added to committees set up by Mrs. K. E. Kuhr, general chairman on arrangements. The hostess committee headed by Mrs. G. C. Young and Mrs. Howard Fox, will be assisted by the following women, in addition to those already named: Mrs. R. F. Steinebrey, Mrs. B. M. Hathaway, Mrs. Edward Nixon, Mrs. Earl Wendell and Mrs. Cleo Flockenzier.

On the host committee are Glenn Rohleder, Glenn Robinson, George W. Harmony and Harry Dotson, all school principals. Miss Margaret Wheeler has been added to the committee on the building tour.

On P. T. A. Program



Shown at the top is Mrs. C. Tracy LaCost, president of the Ohio Congress of Parent-Teachers who will be a speaker at the Northcentral district conference when it is held here next Wednesday. Below is O. E. Hill, superintendent of the Galion Public schools, who is also on the program.

ASHLAND—Ralph Shoemaker, 46, of Loudonville, is being held in the county jail here charged with possessing and selling stolen property, it was reported by Sheriff L. D. Hammond.

FIGHT COLDS

by helping nature build up your cold-fighting resistance

IF you suffer one cold right after another, here's sensational news! Mrs. Elizabeth Vickery writes: "I used to catch colds very easily. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery helped to strengthen me just splendidly. I ate better, had more stamina, and was troubled very little with colds."

This great medicine, formulated by a practicing physician, helps combat colds this way: (1) It stimulates the appetite. (2) It promotes flow of gastric juices. Thus you eat more; your digestion improves; your body gets greater nourishment which helps nature build up your cold-fighting resistance.

So successful has Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery been that over 30,000,000 bottles have already been used. Proof of its remarkable benefits. Get Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery from your druggist today. Don't suffer unnecessarily from colds.

DEMAND FOR PETS GROWS

LONDON—(INS)—The 300,000 people who had their dogs and cats destroyed during the crisis weeks last year are now striving to replace their pets. Dealers have waiting lists of people who want dogs and especially cats because of the increase of mice and rats in houses.

PEANUT STUFF

Japs Use Elephants in Attempt to Ridicule Britain.

PEIPING, North China—(AP)—Elephants are the latest recruits in Japan's anti-British campaign in North China.

Three performing elephants in a traveling Japanese circus are winning wide attention with their tricks. Shown the Japanese flag, and then the flag of "New China," the elephants stand on their hind legs and raise their trunks in salute.

When a tattered Union Jack is waved in front of them, the elephants emit angry bellows. For the performance, they are rewarded with peanuts.

Persons who have witnessed both the circus tricks and "spontaneous" anti-British demonstrations by Chinese crowds, say there is much similarity between the two shows. But the human demonstrators are given 20 or 30 cents each, which is more than "peanuts" to the average impoverished Chinese coolie.

GALION—Bessie Todd is planning to present another in the series of Sunday afternoon concerts this week. The program which will feature plays, readings and music, has not been completed.

Plan to Catch False Alarmists With Red Hands

PITTSBURGH — (U.P.) — The Pittsburgh Fire Department is using a system to catch false alarm pranksters literally red-handed.

Developed by G-men for tracing counterfeit money, the method installed by Fire Chief Nicholas Phelan consists of dusting alarm boxes with a nearly invisible powder called basic fuchsin.

This innocent-looking chemical becomes a vivid reddish dye when it comes in contact with human skin, leaving a stain that remains for several days.

The dye washes out eventually, according to Phelan, but it gives detectives time to examine the hands of suspects.

So far, the powder has been used only on the city's South Side and Hill District where false alarms are common. Its use brought a marked decrease in false alarms when the word got around that the boxes were "fixed," Phelan said.

The Moors introduced chemistry into Spain about 1150.

MANSFIELD, OHIO, THURSDAY, MARCH 7, 1940.

Seasonal or political: The sap is running again.

Guard your health—a sick spell might keep you away from the bank night at which your name is called.

"Must there be a deficit?" asks the National Economy League—and the answer is, not according to Mr. Roosevelt, speaking in 1932.

Mothers Urge West-Side Viaduct

EVEN if it doesn't result in any immediate action, it was well worthwhile for the Bowman school Mothers' club to again direct attention of city council to the urgent need for an overhead crossing of the Erie and B. & O. railroads in the west part of the city.

This has been one of the city's problems for a number of years but it has never been pressed with sufficient enthusiasm to secure action. Population growth in the western and northwestern parts of Mansfield has served to increase the need for such a throughfare and many children are now required to go far out of their way in reaching Senior high school, or be constantly subjected to the danger of crossing railroad tracks at a point which constitutes trespass on railroad property.

The idea of constructing a viaduct and opening a street through from the end of Rowland avenue to a suitable northern outlet has been given consideration for more than twenty years, but not to the extent of gaining sufficient public support to place it among "must" projects.

Not only from the standpoint of greater safety to school children, but also as a matter of public convenience, this proposal deserves more attention than it has thus far been given, with a view to working out preliminaries and reaching the point of financing and construction as quickly as possible.

It is by action such as has been taken by the Bowman school Mothers' club, supplemented by a spread of interest to other groups of men and women, that any progressive step is taken by a city. It appears that the time is ripe for careful study of the proposal to construct a viaduct along the lines suggested, and to get an estimate of probable costs, so that there may be something more tangible on which to proceed further.

Cycle of Greater Rainfall

THIS has been a cold winter, with much more snow than usual in northern and mountainous areas. And naturally there has been considerable discomfort and privation, especially in sections that normally have mild winters and are not prepared for such rigors. But on the whole, the country is expected to benefit from it. The heavy and persisting snowfall serves as protection for winter wheat and other crops, and will provide moisture for the soil as the snow thaws.

It seems likely, too, that the country is entering upon a period of greater "precipitation" than it has had for several years. Rainfall tends to come in cycles averaging ten or twelve years, apparently connected in some mysterious way with sunspot cycles. Weather experts say it is about time for several years' abnormally heavy rain, if the cycle runs true to form. Such expectations are reinforced by the appearance of exceptionally large sunspots—which are sun storms of long duration, accompanied by electrical disturbances throughout the solar system.

A reasonable guess, then, seems to be that we'll have wetter and cooler weather this year. But nothing of that sort can be guaranteed.

World Relief Will Be Big Job

EVERY TIME a European adds another star to his crown by stealing some more property and killing some more neighbors, he sends a relief bill to Uncle Sam. That is what it amounts to. Kind hearted Americans naturally want to help the victims, and the victims as naturally look this way and hold out their hands in ever-increasing numbers and more tragic insistence as the murder and robbery go on.

Appeals come not only to private citizens but to the government. Congress is being asked, at the same time, to help not only the hard-pressed Finns but the Poles and Czechs. The Poles alone are said to need $35,000,000 to $40,000,000 to save them from ruin, and the Finns, from present indications, will need considerably more than the $20,000,000 loan provided by congress. Large sums are needed, too, for the plundered and persecuted racial minorities.

And apparently the war is just beginning. Some observers think it may last twenty or twenty-five years. In the role of financial rescuers Americans will have plenty to do, in addition to meeting this country's relief needs.

Guarding Salvaged Treasures

CHINESE scholars of the future may find it necessary to come to the United States to see their national art treasures and study their own great literary works. The oriental division of the Library of Congress at Washington now houses thousands of Chinese books and manuscripts, some of them unique, which have been sent out of China for safekeeping.

These precious documents contain compilations on law, history and art, as well as creative literature. Many have been handed down from generation to generation of cultured Chinese families. Some of them have been unknown to scholars outside of China. They are of great value.

No one can tell today whether they will ever be returned to China, although they should be eventually, if the Japanese are driven out or finally absorbed by the Chinese.

Old World treasures from Europe, too, have sought refuge in this country. Great possessions of this sort are not more important than civilization itself or humanity, but they are more easily restored and protected.

Clashing Interests In Europe

GERMANY is demanding a return of lost colonies and the impression of some people is that this would be a fair and sensible thing for Britain and France to do. But the British and French colonists in possession naturally object. And Britain, with her African empire running from the Mediterranean south to the cape, naturally doesn't want it broken up.

There must be a new international deal, with the world's resources more fairly divided, if European civilization is to endure. The only present hope for it seems to depend on the elimination of Hitler, and it is doubtful whether that can be done without a long and devastating war.

More politics on the British and French fronts; they've started buying American tobacco again.

Watching Trends

—By PRESTON GROVER

WASHINGTON—Despite all this talk about the gloomy prospects for American youth of today, every community still has a generous assortment of old-fashioned proud papas who view their bright boys as potential presidents.

We've encountered relatively few parents, however, who envision their sapient sons as justices of the supreme court. Perhaps something ought to be done to stimulate that ambition.

First of all a promising youngster's chances for reaching the high court are statistically 9 to 1 better than his prospects for going to the White House. Second, the public esteem for a justice often is equal to—and sometimes greater than — that accorded a chief executive. Third, a supreme court post is just about the nicest of all the nice jobs in Washington.

It's a good bet that some of the current justices are weighing the perquisites of their posts right now.

Five Are Mentioned.

GENTLEMEN of the court, in unusually large number, are being included in this year's speculation on presidential possibilities.

Justices Douglas, Murphy and Frankfurter have been mentioned on the Democratic side; Justices Roberts and Stone on the Republican.

Only once in American political history has a justice left the high bench to become a presidential candidate. Charles Evans Hughes was "drafted" by the Republicans in 1916 and resigned from the court on the day of his nomination. Political adversaries attacked him for "quitting the sacrosanct atmosphere of the court for the sordid political arena," notwithstanding the high level of his personal campaign.

Many a congressman in the thick of legislative turmoil and facing a fight back home for reelection must look with longing on the serene round of duties of the nine men in black. Justices don't have to write explanatory letters to disgruntled constituents. They're not harassed by persistent applications for jobs from "deserving" supporters. Nobody blames them for depressions or unbalanced budgets.

Few Social Obligations.

THEY have pleasant work, for a lifetime, in pleasant surroundings; even the cuspidors are works of art in the magnificent Supreme Court building. The pay of $20,000 a year—double what a senator gets—goes on at the same rate after retirement.

Since it is traditionally good form for the justices to live comparatively aloof from persons active in politics, expensive entertaining is not necessary. They have high official and social ranking, yet they need not attend the innumerable stuffy functions that are a heavy drain on the strength of presidents and others in the political whirlpool.

Grade A Washington hostesses consider a justice—not to mention a chief justice—a prize catch for a dinner party. The best part of it is the justice is not obligated to return the courtesy. Some justices regularly decline White House invitations and their regrets are always accepted in good grace because of their unique social category.

Looking Back

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Sunday, March 7, 1920.

It was announced, "Community Chest will soon be a reality in Mansfield," as organization plans proceeded rapidly.

Many users of open cars believed they would never like a "closed car."

Rev. Wayne O. Kantner was installed as assistant pastor of First Lutheran church.

E. L. Cline returned to his home in Indianapolis after a visit with relatives here.

Aultman-Taylor chorus, directed by A. A. Bellore, sang at St. Luke's Lutheran church.

Mrs. Emma Trimble purchased property in Shelby and planned to move back to that city.

Announcement was made of wedding of Miss Christina Wald and John S. Donnan at Galion Saturday.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

Thursday, March 7, 1935.

Arthur S. Beck was appointed chief deputy in Richland county auditor's office.

Announcement was made that Mansfield would be host for the 1936 convention of the North Central district meeting of the Ohio congress of Parents and Teachers.

Miss Rilla Wildman, North Mulberry street, and Clyde Mitchell were married at the parsonage of First Christian church.

Mrs. Joanna Peters Hass, 84, died.

Mrs. R. G. Hancock, 160 West Fourth street, was improving after a serious illness.

TODAY IN HISTORY

Today is the anniversary of the storming of Jaffa in 1799 by Napoleon in his campaign to conquer Egypt. The inhabitants were shamelessly massacred. Jaffa is the seaport of Jerusalem and means "beauty."

Probing Origins of Fainting Attacks.

—By DR. CLENDENING

THE cause of a fainting attack is interruption of the blood supply to the brain. This results in a complete, sudden blotting out of consciousness, which returns gradually. The mechanism behind the occasional fainting attack which occurs from fatigue is sudden lowering of the blood pressure. I have several times had the experience of examining life insurance applicants who fainted from nervousness while the blood pressure cup was actually on their arm. The blood pressure went down to practically zero at the moment of loss of consciousness.

The fainting of sudden emotional shock is due to a long period when the heart ceases to contract (asystole.)

Nature's Treatment.

The treatment of a fainting attack is that supplied by nature. A fainting person keels over or falls on the floor, which allows the blood to run into the head, even if the blood pressure is down to zero and the heart has temporarily stopped beating. So we commonly say for treatment, "Put the head down lower than the feet." The nervous reaction of the blood flowing into the skull starts the mechanism of circulation so the heart begins to beat and raises the blood pressure again.

Recurrent attacks of fainting are classified by causes into the "circulatory" and "cerebral."

The automatic nervous system controls the heart and the blood pressure. An important part of the automatic nervous system is the carotid sinus, located in the neck on the carotid artery, or large artery, of the neck. The carotid sinus normally serves to maintain a constant blood flow into the brain by reflex regulation. When this nerve reflex is hypersensitive, fainting attacks may be cur because the regulation of the blood supply to the brain is not maintained. In people with this condition, pressure over the carotid sinus at the side of the neck results in spontaneous fainting attacks.

Certain drugs will prevent recurrent fainting attacks due to stoppage of the heart, and recurrent fainting attacks due to lowering of the blood pressure from interference with the automatic nervous system. But in the cerebral type of recurrent fainting attacks, there is no change in the blood pressure or heart rate and no drug will prevent them. In certain very severe cases, surgical removal of the carotid sinus has resulted in cure.

Chronic fainters are usually very sensitive to changes in posture so that if they stand or sit in one position for a long period, they may faint merely from bodily posture. We see such examples in soldiers standing at attention and people watching parades.

Convalescent patients are taught to get up gradually over a period of days, which is an excellent form of exercise of the blood vessels and is a principle of treatment that can be applied to the chronic postural fainters.

Listen, World!

Seek—and Ye Shall Find!

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

"Ask and it shall be given you; seek and ye shall find; knock and it shall be opened unto you; for everyone that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh, it shall be opened.—Matthew VII-7.

YOU'RE always," sneers he, "telling people to go after things and they'll get them . . . quoting Scriptures at them . . . telling them it's up to them to get what they want out of life. But you know as well as I that old 'seek and ye shall find' stuff is the bunk!"

Guess again, Stranger. The bunk? You're wrong! If there's anything certain in this muddled business of life it's the old promise—"Seek and ye shall find: knock and it shall be opened unto you."

I admit I once thought it was the bunk myself. I'd grown up, as most of did, believing that every word in the Bible was "gospel truth." Then I tackled life—As Is—and everything I'd ever trusted seemed to go blooey.

Ask? Seek? Knock? I didn't do Anything Else But! But did I get what I asked? Did I find what I sought? I . . . DID . . . NOT?

To the contrary, it seemed as if some Arch Demon were taking special pleasure in thwarting my wishes—making things even harder for me.

At first I concluded that the trouble lay in my asking. Maybe I didn't know the right way to seek. So I prayed harder and longer—telling God, with floods of tears what a tough spot I was in.

Did THAT do any good? Not a darn bit! Life became even cusseder—impossible. And was I mad! Then, like many another, I concluded this prayer business was the bunk. Those promises? Well, they were just pretty poetry. They didn't have any connection with practical life.

What then? It's a long story—with no new chapters. Every human who has ever dared to live at all knows each page of it. Tears of rage and rebellion, discouragement, despair—with no sense in it at all, nor any rules by which you could play the game. For, if the old promises were the bunk, what COULD a fellow believe?

Then one day I said that verse over again, out of habit, hardly knowing what I was doing. And an amazing idea occurred to me—

"Ask and it shall be given you . . . seek and ye shall find . . . knock and it shall be opened unto you—"

I had believed those words so implicitly! I had thought they were not only the words of a great saint, but a practical working rule for life. And they had failed me. OR HAD THEY?

"Ask and it shall be given you" . . . but it didn't promise WHAT would be given if I asked, WHAT I would find if I sought, or WHAT I would see beyond that opening door!

Had my prayers, perhaps, been answered all the while? And had I thought they weren't, simply because the answer didn't fit my notions?

I began to look back at my life—back at the way things had turned out, after all the storming and battling. My Big Chances—one by one I traced them to their source, and I saw, amazingly, that they had never seemed big changes at first. Instead, many a time they had seemed to be actual hardships — pesty obligations which I peevishly met. Yet, in the end, they became the great "answers" of my life, the great adventures.

And I wondered again — HOW MANY CHANCES HAD I LOST BECAUSE THINGS DIDN'T COME AS I HAD PLANNED? And how many other lives had been wasted, simply because they wouldn't accept opportunities unless they fitted some private pattern of their own?

"Seek and ye shall find"—the bunk? No. You're wrong. There's nothing on earth more certain. If you seek the opportunity for greater, wider experience, you'll find it every time.

But are you willing to take it AS you find it? Are you willing to let go of your pet plans and take a chance with life, regardless — following whatever trail that opening door may reveal?

Everyday Poem

—By GEORGE ELLISTON

Youth Is My Heart.

For youth is not in years, I say
It once again to lift
My heart, now that my years are long,
As on and on they drift,

While others who had started when
I started, go their way,
Youth has no traffic with the years,
With living day to day

Youth is my heart, and if I keep
It young, within my hand
I shall hold all youth feels and knows
Its finest will command.

Maple Syrup Time

(A FARMER'S DIARY)

—By CALVIN A. BYERS

DOWN in the high hills south of here, last week, I came by a sugar grove that had been tapped already. The grove was in a little valley, on both sides of a creek, and many splendid maples stood well up along the steeper banks. A rudely built sugar house stood four hundred yards from the road with a steel pipe at the nearer end from which a heavy eddying line of bluish smoke blew eastward. White steam issued from cracks between the boards and from two vents on the roof. Only at intervals, when the wind blew the vapor away, was the rough-sawed batten door visible. It stood open and I could see movements of a shadowy figure skimming foam from off the boiling surface.

A great stack of split wood and long poles stood at the gable end, near the door. When the opening in the firebox was pulled back, flickering light played upon the rising vapor making a border of flaming scarlet pillars. A damp warmth surged into my face as I entered. The sweet odor of boiling maple sap was everywhere. When I could see better, I readily discerned three wide evaporating pans which formed the covering for the furnace. The longest and largest one was first in line; from it the sap, at proper density, was siphoned into the second; and the third pan was used for the final testing of the syrup.

A tall stoop-shouldered farmer in clean overalls looked up from the rear of the shed. "This batch is about ready to run off into those cans there," he said, pointing to a row of square gallon tins at one side.

"How much will it make?" I asked.

"I get four gallon to a batch," he said. "When I get two more boilings finished, it'll make 24 gallon so far."

"But it's nearly night," said I. "You'll work late, won't you?"

"I'll be here long after midnight. But when the sap's running I have to keep the fires goin' to keep ahead. My wife and son'll do the chores, and then she'll bring my supper down and stay to help me finish."

"She'll like that, won't she?" I suggested. He smiled a little shyly.

"She never looks no better to me than when she comes in out o' the cold, like that—and a basket o' grub in one hand," he admitted. "We'll sit here on this old buggy seat and eat and talk while the fire roars and the sap steams and sputters. That fresh maple syrup never tastes so good anywhere else as when Cora and me dunk it outo' these two old rusty tincups."

Leaving, I stopped among the tall trees each with its sap bucket near the base, and listened. All about me and up along the slope in a musical liquid chorus I heard the drip, drip, drip of maple sap. About four inches of snow lay over the level bottom, but as I leaped the old rail fence I came knee deep into a slushy drift, and chuckled to myself, "It's maple syrup time!"

WASHINGTON Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—The Finnish Minister in Washington received a letter the other day written by three Negroes in a Southern jail. It began, "Your Majesty," and voiced the willingness of the three to serve in the army of Finland, if they could get out of jail.

To help the cause in the meantime, they enclosed a quarter, and ended with, "You can write to us in care of the sheriff, and we'll be here."

Mail trucks bring letters like this by the sackful every day to the Finnish legation. Some are addressed to "The Finnish Government in Washington," and one read, "Finnish Government, Care of Uncle Sam, Washington." It contained a dollar bill.

The mail is so heavy that the legation staff has been increased to one of the largest diplomatic staffs in Washington. A year ago it consisted of three persons; now there are more than thirty. Expansion has required renting an additional building to serve as Chancery to the Legation.

Sample of a recent day's contributions: Decorah Chamber of Commerce, Decorah, Iowa, $500; Moving Picture Operators Union, Fort Worth, Texas, $10; resident of San Mateo, Calif., $0.25; Finland Defense Committee, Doylestown, Pa., $1,000; Washington Paint Salesmen's Club, $25.

These contributions are distinct from the funds being raised by ex-President Hoover's Finnish Relief Fund, Inc., and General O'Ryan's Fighting Funds for Finland. Latest figures indicate these two organizations have raised $2,000,000 and $500,000 respectively. The Hoover fund, as contrasted to the O'Ryan fund, is for the purchase of civilian supplies, but it has lately expressed willingness to transmit contributions for munitions.

Generous, But—

EVERYWHERE members of the Finnish Legation go they encounter personal goodwill toward their country.

Minister Procope took his fountain pen to a shop for repairs. The charge was 25 cents. The shopkeeper declined to accept payment. "Use the money for the cause of Finland," he said. Colonel Per Zilliacus, military attache, called in a physician when his children were taken ill. The doctore presented a bill, and said, "Don't send the check to me; send it to your government."

Despite all these expressions of sympathy, U. S. aid has been less than Sweden's. Total U. S. assistance, including the $30,000,000 credit from the Export-Import Bank, is around $35,000,0000. Sweden has given $95,000,000—25 in cash and 70 in materials.

Note—The legation has received a tale from home of the boyish valor of Finland's famed composer, Jean Sibelius, who, at the age of 73, rushes out of his home near Helsinki every time Russian bombers appear and tries to bring them down single-handed with his old hunting rifle.

Never Again.

THE biggest laugh during Senator Burt Wheeler's speech at the hilarious National Press club banquet, where nine presidential possibilities told why they should NOT be elected, was prompted by an unexpected sharp remark.

"I haven't a chance," the Montanan was saying, "because John L. Lewis is for me. Another reason is that I was the runningmate of 'Old Bob' LaFollette in 1924. Still another is that Norman Thomas, who is here with us tonight, supported me. If he should do that again this year I'd be sunk sure."

"Don't worry," drily called out Thomas, 1936 Socialist candidate, "I won't. I only support liberals who stay hitched."

Note — Scrappy SEC Commissioner Leon Henderson, a third-term booster, offered to bet Tom Dewey $5 to $1 that the next president "is not in this hall," but the young New Yorker smilingly declined the offer. Henderson had no better luck with any of the other aspirants.

Rated by the newsmen as the wittiest speakers of the evening were Democratic Bob Jackson and Republican Bruce Barton.

Census "Snooping."

THE one-man war which Senator Charles Tobey, New Hampshire Republican, is waging against "snooping" in the census questionnaire is winning no hosannas from the business world.

Inside fact is that the two queries Tobey is griping about—concerning family income in 1939—were incorporated in the questionnaire by Secretary Hopkins at the express request of business leaders, who want to get reliable statistics on local and regional buying power.

The last thing in their minds was to "snoop." They pointed out to Hopkins that the census could be a tremendous help in stimulating recovery by providing business with accurate information on purchasing power, and he agreed to co-operate.

Among the business leaders who urged the inquiries were Dr. Stacy May of the Rockefeller Foundation; Dr. Louis Dublin of Metropolitan Life; David R. Craig, president of the American Retail Federation; General Robert E. Wood, head of Sears, Roebuck; and a director of the New York Stock Exchange; and Noel Sargent, secretary of the National Association of Manufacturers.

Trade organizations that backed the income questionnaire were the National Bureau of Economic Research, National Industrial Conference Board, American Home Economics Association, Actuarial Society of America, auto manufacturers, labor unions, publishers and market analysts. In fact, there are few trade groups that did not advocate the questions about which Tobey is trying to raise a hullabaloo.

Note—In the senate cloakrooms, Tobey's crusade is attributed to jealousy of his better known colleague, Senator Styles Bridges, who has won national publicity as a result of his campaign for the GOP presidential nomination.

PLASTICS MAY PLAY BIG ROLE IN WAR TIME

Toledo Engineer Has Ideas for Better Tanks, Helmets, and Gas Masks.

(By Central Press)

TOLEDO — Development of a transparent plastic front for gas masks, which will enable clear vision in any direction, will be among war items on which inventive genius will soon be concentrated, according to Harold Van Doren, Toledo industrial designer.

"The present gas masks give the wearer the appearance of an ogre," Van Doren explains. "The masks are heavy and hot. It would be very simple to develop a mask quite similar to those worn by comic strip heroes when exploring planets like Mars and Jupiter.

I do not mean a helmet affair which would cover the entire head like a bell or like the helmet of a deep sea diver, but a helmet with a transparent plastic face and cloth sides. The plastic material, being light, pliable and practically unbreakable, can be made cheaply and quickly and can be packed away in small kits without danger of cracking."

More Brutal Tanks.

Reviewing possibilities of applying principles of industrial design to weapons of war, Van Doren says that tanks could be made more brutal by use of blunt, heavy lines which would suggest power.

By reversing the process of beautifying, which designers have applied to such things as refrigerators, automobiles and washing machines, war could be made more horrible—if the war lords want it.

Necessity for low cost materials as well as easy replacement, will bring many substitutes for steel into prominence, he believes.

Plastics might be used as bullet-proof shields, he points out, soldiers advancing under gunfire behind transparent plastic shields. Again, trench helmets might be made of plastics in a far more efficient design than the present heavy American helmet.

Van Doren believes the German steel trench helmet, from a functional standpoint, is more efficiently designed than the American type, which protects only the top of the head. Functionalism, which is a prime requisite of industrial design, must be applied to war materials, too, he asserts.

Plastics Possibilities.

"Ability to mold large-size objects in plastics is progressing rapidly," Van Doren declares. "Soon we will be molding entire airplane struts, wings and fuselage. We will be covering wings with materials hardened by plastics. The molded airplane, produced complete with one punch of a molding press, is not too far in the future. We can already produce airplanes faster than we can train men to fly them."

Plastics have largely been developed in the past decade, Van Doren explains, until more than 3,000 different varieties have been perfected. Many of these possess hardness qualities rivaling steel.

Baby Contest Entrants 'Look at the Birdie'

300 STUDENTS LIVE IN CO-OP

Iowa Campus Boasts Fourteen Dormitories Operated Under Plan.

(By Associated Press)

IOWA CITY, Ia.—Of all the co-operatives that dot the middlewest, probably the most instructive are the 11 flourishing dormitories sponsored by the University of Iowa.

In them the boys and girls learn how mutual effort minus the profit motive can give them plenty to eat for $85 or less a year and comfortable living space for $56 more.

Founded in 1932, when 15 men got the cooperative idea and moved into a campus house, there now are nine "co-ops" on the campus for men and two for women.

Each house is supervised by a proctor, the system's only paid employes. The students prepare the food themselves. As freshmen, they get cooking fundamentals in the university home economics department.

Each student gets a refund at the end of the year, if expenses are less than the figure the university planned for each house. Last year the cooperatives, housing approximately 300 of the school's 6,565 resident students, took in $26,981.70, of which 4.8 per cent was refunded.

Admission to the houses is based on the student's scholastic promise, need of financial assistance and personality for cooperative life.

AVIATOR SPOTS SAFE IN FIELD

Makes Landing, Finds Remains of Bandits' Loot.

DENVER— (AP) —Flying high over a huge wheat field near Denver, Claude B. Thompson, aviator, saw a black object in the stubble and thought it resembled a safe.

He landed nearby and his suspicions were confirmed. The object was the remains of a safe that had been stolen the night before from a restaurant and taken to the field to be battered open.

About $400 had been taken from it but the burglars left a couple of bottles of Chinese herbs, which the safe also had contained, in the field.

Twenty-one presidents of the United States were lawyers.

Britain Studies War Television Use In Planes

LONDON— (U.P.) —Science is busy trying to devise a television apparatus of sufficiently reasonable size to go into a plane which would be used for spotting the enemy and showing the pictures direct on a screen back in the home aerodrome or aircraft carrier.

Lord Chatfield, in the House of Lords, said that the Admiralty had already devised a television through which the captain of a warship could watch his shells falling on the enemy.

The set was working perfectly, but being the size of a table, was too cumbersome to be carrier in a plane.

Germany was busy with a similar idea at least four years ago and German scientists were urged to develop it with as little delay as possible.

German Factory Workers To Get Milk, Soviet Tea

BERLIN— (INS) —Russian tea imported under the new trade agreements will be distributed free of charge to 300,000 workers of steel mills and other factories at the rate of about one quart per head by order of the German Health Ministry.

These workers, exposed to extra-ordinary heat and smoke, will also be given extra rations of milk.

Local health officers have been instructed to constantly supervise the physical condition of such hard workers in order to preserve their strength, which is regarded as a vital asset to the national defense power of the Reich.

Under another decree issued by the labor front, 1400 drivers of Berlin buses and street cars, chiefly employed for night shifts, will be sent to Baltic Sea resorts for a fortnight each during summer in order to make up for the extra strain resulting from blackout traffic. Traffic companies of other German cities are expected to follow suit.

Subway-riding New Yorkers spend two to three weeks a year underground.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

PHILLY HOPES GOP WILL SPEND

City Anticipates 12 Millions in Revenue From Convention in June.

(By Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. — From the mayor to the corner shoeshine boys, Philadelphia expects the coming of the Republican national convention in June to give a midas touch to a town with a big debt ($533,469,000) and a sad need for some lavish spending.

The nation's third largest city knows how lucky it is to play host for a week or more to an estimated 125,000 visitors; how covetous other financially - embarrassed American cities must be of Philadelphia's sweet opportunity to cash in on the quadrennial Republican mass meeting.

Four years ago, the Democrats spent $10,000,000 here at the convention which renominated Franklin D. Roosevelt, and the city's leaders expect the Republicans to pour that much and two millions more into the channels of trade.

They believe the convention may be just what the doctor ordered for a metropolis suffering from a recurring deficits—$3,503,455 last year—and a succession of huge tax delinquencies.

A. Russell Phillips, director of the hotel and tourist bureau of the Chamber of Commerce, has it all figured out where the ubiquitous convention dollars will wander:

Hotels, $2,760,000; stores, $2,856,000; theaters and night clubs, $1,908,000; wholesalers and manufacturers, $1,524,000; restaurants, $2,400,000, and transportation companies, $552,000.

Texas Woman Granted Request on Mailing of Federal Check.

HOUSTON, Tex.—(AP)—A woman wrote County Judge Roy Hofheinz asking him to make arrangements to have a $50 government compensation check delivered to her a day earlier.

The money is mailed her by a trust company acting as temporary guardian, under appointment by the Harris County Court, for her husband, who is in a Virginia veterans' home.

Her reason—the check arrived on the 13th of each month. Obliging Judge Holheinz arranged for her to receive it on the 12th.

IT'S NO WONDER SHE GOT TOUGH

Lady Panther Objects to Playing Romeo Role in Zoo.

GENEVA, Switzerland—(AP)—A pantheress from Berlin got a two week vacation in Switzerland—all because she seemed too tough to be a lady.

Geneva's zoo ordered a male sent from Berlin to go with the female panther they already had. The animal that arrived was such a hard-boiled specimen that it was two weeks before Genevese zoo guardians decided she wasn't a male after all.

"We thought this one was just giving our lady some violent love pats," said the embarrassed Geneva guards as they caged the Berlin pantheress for the return trip to Berlin, "but she was just being tough after all."

Minister-Painter Praises and Recommends "Vendol"

Mansfield Pastor Declares He Got Relief From Years of Suffering From Gas, Sour Stomach, "Heartburn," Backache, Piles and Other Troubles By Taking a Few Bottles of This Famous Medicine.

REV. HARRY S. YOHN

There is no questioning the unselfish sincerity of such a man as Rev. Harry S. Yohn of 558 Bowman Street, Mansfield, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene and who is also a painter and enamelist at the Shelby Cycle Company. He is known not only here in his home town, but also in Shelby, Ohio and other nearby cities. He is one of a number of Ministers who have given grateful public statements praising Vendol. When a medicine has the merit to produce results that win the praise and recommendation of such leaders in their high calling, there can be no doubt of its unusual powers.

"I have taken only two bottles," he says, "but am highly pleased with results. Constipation had troubled me for years causing other symptoms such as headaches, indigestion, bloating with sour gas, palpitation, "heartburn," shortness of breath. My kidneys were sluggish in action, I became nervous and was out of bed many times a night, sleep was not restful and piles bothered me for a year. There were few things I could eat without suffering agonies afterward."

"I found marvelous relief from constipation by taking Vendol and this seemed to have relieved my other troubles and now my sleep is restful without being up all hours, pains in my back are gone and never have attacks of indigestion, nor sour, gassy stomach.

"Life has taken on more interest and color for me and I enjoy getting around among my congregation more than ever. I am convinced beyond doubt that Vendol is a medicine of high merit, so I am glad to recommend it to all who suffer as I did."

Such experiences as this, and other well known men and women have spread the fame of Vendol far and wide. Try Vendol for your troubles.

Start today on this famous upbuilding medicine. All druggists sell Vendol and you can get full information about it from the Vendol Man at Central Drug Store, corner of Main and Fourth Streets.—Adv.

Urges New Three-Man Labor Board to Serve as 'Judge'

HOUSE GROUP SUBMITS 17 AMENDMENTS

Freedom for Employers to 'Discuss Labor Situations With Workers' Sought.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — Prompt creation of a new three-man labor board to act "merely as a judge" in collective bargaining disputes topped a list of 17 amendments to the Wagner act recommended to congress today by a special house committee.

Freedom also for an employer "to discuss labor situations with his workers" within limitations was included in the changes proposed by Chairman Smith (D., W. Va.) of an investigating committee. The committee majority advocated that the present board, headed by J. Warren Madden, be tossed out of office at this session.

Smith said his amendments represented "imperative things that need immediate attention." Aligned with him were Representatives Halleck (R., Ind.) and Routzohn (R., Ohio).

The minority, Representatives Healey (D., Mass.) and Murdock (D., Utah), protested against the amendments as "emasculatory" and threatening to "the principles, purposes and objectives of the act."

Healey and Murdock said the changes "propose to sacrifice vital rights of labor."

In proposing to separate judicial and prosecuting functions, the majority suggested that an administrator, to be appointed by the president and to have no connection with the board, should prosecute complaints against employers.

Played 3 Roles.

This amendment apparently was based on charges that in some cases the board had acted as judge, jury and prosecutor.

One amendment would forbid the payroll reinstatement of any employe who had engaged in willful violence during a labor disturbance.

The suggested changes, Smith said, are not intended to affect the fundamental principle of collective bargaining in the Wagner act but, he said, would define the work of the new administrative body more clearly and eliminate cause of some of the dissatisfaction expressed about the present labor board.

Board members now are Chairman J. Warren Madden, Edwin S. Smith and William M. Leiserson. Madden and Smith have been the particular targets of criticism in the course of the Smith committee's hearings since last September.

PLEAD GUILTY IN POSTAL ROBBERY

O. S. R. Fugitive and Companion Held for U. S. Grand Jury.

Joseph Moses, 22, who escaped from the Ohio State Reformatory Feb. 11, 1939, and Walter Byomin, 23, paroled from the institution last September, pleaded guilty today to robbing a postal substation in Cleveland last Sunday, and were bound over to the federal grand jury under $5,000 bonds.

They were arraigned before U. S. Commissioner B. D. Nicola. The men were arrested Monday following the hold-up of a drug store and postal substation on Lake Shore boulevard, where they took $150 in postal receipts and $100 in store cash.

Cleveland detectives and postal authorities who made the arrest, said the men confessed to a number of other robberies in Cleveland.

WHITE STILL IN ELECTION FIELD

Former Governor 'Seriously Considers' Running Again, Ex-Aid Declares.

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS — Former Gov. George White is still seriously considering whether to bid for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, it was disclosed today.

Darrell Jones of Newark, assistent welfare director in White's administration, said that he talked by telephone with the former governor in Florida last night and found he had not eliminated himself as a possibility.

White, who is expected back in Ohio tomorrow, said two weeks ago that he might enter the May 14 primary contest if Martin L. Davey did not seek renomination. Davey has since announced his cadidacy.

Meanwhile, reports that James A. Farley was inquiring about national convention delegates in Ohio caused some organization leaders to assert privately that he did not have a remote chance of obtaining control of the state's delegation.

Charles Sawyer, the "favorite son" presidential candidate of the Ohio delegation, said he talked with the postmaster general in Florida last week and "he gave me no indication that he intended to seek Ohio delegates."

Sawyer, Democratic national committeeman, denied reports of a disagreement with Ray T. Miller, Cuyahoga county leader, over the selection of convention delegates.

He added that he talked with Miller yesterday and asked him for delegate suggestions.

FILES FOR JUDGE

Mabee First Probate Candidate to Submit Petition.

A. B. Mabee, former head of the state sales tax office in Mansfield, was the first candidate today to file for the nomination for Richland county probate judge in the May primary. He is a Democrat.

Mabee, who lives at 392 West Third street, entered the contest against Prosecutor G. W. Marriott and Atty. A. S. Beach who are expected to file before the deadline March 15.

Only candidate who has announced so far on the Republican ticket is Atty. Stuart H. Cramer, substitute municipal judge. Probate Judge C. J. Anderson, a Republican, will not seek re-election.

Mabee is the third candidate to file for a county office. Charles Payne of Shelby has filed for treasurer and H. P. Taylor of Bellville for county commissioner.

SHIFTED AGAIN

Community Players Finale Now Set for March 13.

For the second time the date of the Community Players final presentation of the season has been postponed, it was announced today. Instead of next Tuesday, "Petrified Forest" will be presented on Wednesday at the new John Simpson Junior high auditorium.

The original date of the play was March 5, and because of conflicting with another event, it was changed to March 12. The latter is the date of the lecture by Dr. Mary Hart at Senior high auditorium, which the American Association of University Women will sponsor.

The reserved seat board for "The Petrified Forest" will open at 9 a. m. tomorrow at the ballroom of the Mansfield-Leland hotel, in charge of Harvey Bailey.

"The Petrified Forest," Robert Sherwood's dramatic play of two men who face death when they meet at a little desert gasoline station on the edge of the Petrified Forest, gives the Players one of their most pretentious vehicles in several seasons.

Sought In $400 Jewel Theft After Discarding Purse

The search for a thief who invaded the new Johnny Appleseed Junior high school Sunday and carried off an employe's purse containing $400 worth of jewelry, narrowed to a woman suspect who discarded the pocketbook in a theater and then fled, detectives said today.

They reported that the purse, looted of its contents, was recovered by a man attending the theater who said he saw the woman drop the purse.

He told the officers that he called to her and that she replied that the pocketbook was not hers. He then turned it over to the manager.

The theft was reported Sunday afternoon by Mrs. E. H. Lutz, 230 Helen avenue, who said she laid the purse with her coat and hat in a classroom and that when she was ready to leave the building it was missing.

MORE ON RELIEF

February Rolls Highest Since End of 1938, Sherwood Says.

COLUMBUS — (U.P.) — There were more persons on relief in Ohio in February, and more money was spent for relief that month than during any month since the end of 1938, Charles L. Sherwood, state welfare director, announced today.

Due to employment falling off and the closing of WPA projects during zero weather, the relief load increased from 115,231 in January to 119,663 in February, he reported.

3 QUARANTINED

Brinkerhoff First Graders Ill With Scarlet Fever.

Despite three cases of scarlet fever reported in Brinkerhoff school, Dr. Roy C. Rehder, city-county health commissioner, said today there was no danger of an epidemic and that the school would not be closed unless the disease spreads.

He said that the pupils, all in the first grade, had been quarantined and that several others with sore throats and colds had been sent home.

"We are making a daily check of the pupils in the classes and in that manner we hope to avert any closing of the school," Dr. Rehder said.

All children in the first grade were examined yesterday and today throat cultures were taken of all those who were considered suspicious cases.

HELD IN MURDER

Youth Accused of Slaying Cleveland Restaurant Operator.

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Clarence E. Rost, 22, was held today on a warrant charging him with the Jan. 29 slaying of George Blazie, 66, Cleveland restaurant owner.

Rost denied the charge and said he would waive extradition and return to Cleveland to clear his name. Blazie was found dead in the Track cafe on East 99th street in Cleveland.

ARRANGE RITES

BUCYRUS — Funeral arrangements are pending for Charles Conklin, 70, native of Bucyrus and former livery barn proprietor, who died Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Minnie Strohm, 630 South East street, where he was receiving care.

Survivors include three children, Mrs. H. S. Siegel, of Bucyrus, Miss Ruth Conklin of Cleveland, and John of Bellaire, O., and one brother, Wallace, of Cleveland.

TAXES ROLL IN

Receipts Hit $208,000 With Deadline Month Away.

County Treasurer John E. Kolb's hopes for a big tax collection this year were boosted today when real estate tax receipts climbed to $208,321 with still more than a month to go.

Collections of personal taxes which began March 1 amounted to $10,379 as more than 500 property owners filed their returns. Classified personal receipts totaled $8,972 and general personal levies amounted to $1,407.

With the largest payments yet to come, more than one-third of the county's real estate tax bill for the first half of the year has been paid. Books will be open for payment until April 10.

Personal tax collections will be received without penalty until April 1. Personal taxes are payable on stocks, bonds, factory equipment, office furnishings, livestock, and farm tools.

ATTEMPTS TO END OWN LIFE

Mansfielder Found With Neck and Wrists Slashed By Razor.

A 58-year-old man was in the General hospital today with a deep gash in his neck and a slashed wrist resulting from what police described as an attempt to take his own life. He was listed on hospital records as John Combs, 461 Glessner avenue.

Officers said he was found on the floor of a downstairs bedroom by his wife and that a razor was lying beside him.

The man's wife told police that she was awakened about 5:30 a. m. when she heard sounds from his bedroom. Her screams awakened members of the family. They told police that the man had been ill for several months and was unable to work.

14 Italian Ships In Hands of British.

LONDON—(INS)—With 14 Italian colliers anchored off the Downs and in the hands of contraband control authorities, orders have been issued to unload German coal from eight of the vessels, a spokesman for Britain's ministry of economic warfare announced today.

The spokesman said that it has been ascertained so far that eight of the ships were carrying German coal and that they have been instructed to proceed to port and unload in accordance with the British decision to block all sea-borne shipments of German coal to Italy.

He added that one Italian vessel, the tanker Loasso, was detained but was found to have sailed prior to March 1, the British deadline for halting the shipments, and thus was premitted to proceed.

Investigation of the cargoes of the other detained Italian vessels is proceeding, the spokesman declared.

GETS EVIDENCE IN SUPPORT OF 'TWO PER CENT'

Civil Service Chairman Makes Finding in Ferguson's 'Political Fund.'

(By United Press)

COLUMBUS—Miss Gertrude Jones, chairman of the state civil service commission, said today that she had obtained evidence to "substantiate" charges by Fred Stiles, former state examiner, that State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson had levied a two per cent assessment upon employes of this office.

Miss Jones said she expected to investigate further and to submit findings to Attorney General Thomas J. Herbert for whatever action he deems appropriate.

She said that she was satisfied the assessment was a "straight out political" levy.

Although Miss Jones was uncertain what action the attorney general could take, she said she believed the levying of such an assessment could be considered a criminal offense.

Stiles, now in the highway department in the Marietta division, has submitted affidavits to support his charges, according to Miss Jones, and the commission expects to receive shortly either his cancelled checks in payments of the assessments or photographs of them.

Among the evidence Miss Jones has obtained was a circular of instructions to an unidentified employe, notifying him that out of his annual salary, a regular two per cent monthly assessment should be paid. The employe was instructed to make payments to the late H. S. Brown, former chief clerk in the bureau of inspection.

The paper referred to payments for 1937. It included an instruction that the employe should make further inquiry to a superior and said the money would be used to create "a miscellaneous expense fund."

Miss Jones said two employes had volunteered information. She withheld their names.

GATHER IN CITY

Christian Ministers From 8 Counties at Meeting.

Twelve ministers and 24 missionary workers from Christian churches in Richland and eight other counties, attended the monthly meeting of Christian ministers at the First Christian church yesterday.

Three ministers spoke at the meeting. Rev. H. R. Alleygood of Marion discussed "Preaching Challenges Men," Rev. Turner Holt of Shenandoah gave a talk on "Preaching As An Abiding Imperative, and Rev. R. T. Crowe of Shelby spoke on "Deeper Meaning of Evangelism."

Rev. Robert Tuck of Wooster lead the devotions for ministers and Mrs. J. E. Wilcox headed the devotions at the missionary workers' meeting.

A paper on "Work in the Leper Colony at Paraguay" was given by Mrs. B. F. Hagelbarger, wife of the Mansfield pastor. Following the two meetings, the women presented a program in the church for the ministers. Rev. Holt presided over the pastors' meeting and Mrs. O. F. Shively of Mansfield acted as chairman of the workers' meeting.

CRUSHED BY CAR

Lancaster Driver Killed When Jack Lets Auto Fall on Him.

LANCASTER — (INS — John W. Frazier, 23, was killed instantly late yesterday when a jack which he was using to repair a tire broke, letting his automobile fall on him, Coroner J. D. Dupler reported today. He died instantly of a broken neck, Dupler said.

The accident occurred at the Frazier home, six miles west of Amanda on the Fairfield-Pickaway county line.

REPORT SOVIET SEEKS TO END WAR WITH FINNS

Rumors Persist That Germany, Sweden Work Together to Terminate Conflict.

troops in the Karelian isthmus attacked frontally.

Joint Conversations Not Started Yet, Report.

STOCKHOLM —(U P)— Reliable political circles reported today that Sweden early this week proposed peace terms to Russia and Finland and that although negotiations were started they have not yet reached the stage of joint conversations.

Political circles said that as a result of the Swedish proposals steady contact was being maintained by Russia, Finland, Sweden and Germany.

Amidst intense political activity here Swedish political quarters expressed the opinion that the time for negotiations had arrived because the Russians had succeeded in some advances in Finland while the Finns had suffered no major defeats.

Activities here were surrounded by great secrecy.

All official circles, including the Swedish foreign office and the Finnish legation, refused to discuss the situation. But observers noted that the foreign office was careful not to deny that negotiations for peace between Finland and Russia were proceeding.

Finland Calls Youths of 19 to Fight Reds.

HELSINKI —(AP)— The Finnish government today called up the military class of 1920—mostly youths of 19—and all men of other classes scheduled for re-examination this year or in succeeding years.

Most of the second group previously had been rejected for reasons of health.

The new call to the colors came while the vanguard of the Russian besiegers of Viipuri still were in virtually the same positions they occupied almost a week ago outside the key Karelian isthmus city.

Military observers expressed belief that the final Red army assault on the depopulated and devastated city was being delayed by failures of Soviet attacks on Finnish lines east and southwest of Viipuri.

Unless the Russians can break through these lines and flank the defenders, the sources said, invading troops entering the city would be in a pocket with Finns on the east, west and north.

dates to the state G. O. P. convention. They will be elected in the May primary. District delegates and alternates to the G. O. P. national convention were recommended several weeks ago by party leaders at a meeting in Mt. Vernon.

At Saturday's session the Democratic executive committee also will recommend a candidate for the state central committee from the 17th district.

E. B. Kallmerten, one of former Governor Martin L. Davey's supporters who was elected two years ago is expected to get the support of Richland Democrats again.

The committee also will decide on recommendations of 11 delegates and 11 alternates whose names will appear on the May 14 ballot to attend the Democratic state convention.

Meanwhile reports from Newark today said that Byron B. Ashbrook, unsuccessful Democratic nominee in the special 17th congressional district election, was still "undecided" whether to seek the nomination for the full term.

Meeting with party leaders here Tuesday night Ashbrook indicated, however, that he did not intend to seek the nomination.

Dispatches from Newark quoted Ashbrook as saying: "Personally, I am reluctant to make any decision regarding my own future until other potential candidates have had an opportunity to decide for themselves. My sole interest is in seeing that every possible effort is made to assure Democratic success next November."

Ashbrook during his campaign last month said he sought only to fill the unexpired term of his uncle, the late William A. Ashbrook.

45 Foreign-Born Take Tests Today To Win Citizenship

Forty-five residents of Mansfield and Richland county who were born in foreign lands or lost their citizenship in the United States went before Judge C. H. Huston in common pleas court today to prove they are ready to become American citizens.

Final hearings and examinations for the group were held at the courthouse with Judge Huston and A. E. Weatherbee, federal immigration officer from Youngstown, in charge.

Judge Huston and Weatherbee questioned them orally about who makes the laws, who the president is, what congress does, and other information citizens should know about their government.

If Judge Huston decides they are eligible to be citizens, he will grant them citizenship and they will receive their naturalization papers March 18 at ceremonies at the American Legion home.

Ten nationalities are represented in the group which took the final examination today. Yugoslavia had the largest representation, with 14. Others were from Rumania, Greece, England, Russia, Italy, Hungary, Ireland, Germany and Czechoslovakia.

BRITISH LINER SAFE IN HARBOR

circle, crew members brought out the Union Jack and some of the crew waved.

She missed the morning slack tide and most likely will drop anchor near the old quarantine station, Staten Island, before proceeding up the bay late this afternoon to her pier at 50th street.

Black smoke belched from the Queen Elizabeth's two slated funnels as she suddenly straightened out from her previous zig-zag course and cut a direct line for New York harbor —apparently sure, now, that she was in safe waters.

Below the water-line, the ship showed dark red and along the water line there were patches of black under the gray paint, indicating her "war paint" had been hastily applied for the audacious voyage to this country.

Poor visibility that hampered the observations of passengers in the welcoming planes improved as the Queen Elizabeth neared the harbor, and brilliant sunshine poured through the broken clouds, speckling the waters and churning wake with gold and silver.

It was estimated, at that time, that the ship was making approximately 28 knots.

Meanwhile, preparations were made to greet the Queen Elizabeth at her new berth at pier 90, at the foot of West 50th street, where two dredges have recently been deepening the north side of the slip for her huge bulk.

The newcomer will lie snugly in a $113,750,000 maritime "Klondike" on the New York waterfront, alongside the $60,000,000 French liner Normandie and the Queen Elizabeth's sister ship, the $25,000,000 Queen Mary.

A police detail of 250 men was stationed in the pier vicinity, and not even newsmen or photographers were allowed to enter the piershed.

In completing her strange maiden voyage, the Queen Elizabeth wrote a new chapter in wartime drama.

For the voyage of this largest potential target for an enemy warship was:

1. Made without an alarm, and
2. Not disclosed until late yesterday.

"Thousands of Clydeside people knew the Elizabeth had left her berth nine days ago," exulted the authoritative British Press association in London, "and the Scottish and national press of Great Britain knew it. Yet the secret was kept."

The secret was kept until the new queen of the seas, christened months ago by the reigning British queen in her own name, was safely within the American neutrality zone.

The world's largest liner comes to New York as a self-exile from England to take refuge from the worries of war and to join the company of the other great liners too valuable to risk in submarine-infested waters.

"Her arrival in New York," the British Press association said of the Queen Elizabeth, "gives Adolf Hitler and Admiral Raeder, chief of the Nazi sea terror campaign, a startling shock in view of the Nazi claim to 'control of the oceans'."

Nazis Joke About Liner's Voyage.

BERLIN—(AP)—In jocular mood concerning the voyage to New York of the new British liner Queen Elizabeth, authorized German sources today commented:

"The stealthy trip into a United States harbor does not speak well for British confidence in victory."

They said, "first the British took gold over there, then apparents other treasures, and forgot to bring back certain historical documents. (Apparently a reference to a copy of England's Magna charta, deposited in Washington.)

"Now they must pay $1,000 a day docking charges. Why don't they leave the ship in British harbors if they are confident of victory?"

For that matter, they asked, "what is the Queen Elizabeth anyway? It is not even finished. In fact, it is half a skeleton. Now, the Bremen — that was something!"

STALLS LIQUOR CASE ACTIONS

Court's Ruling on Insolvency Acts Puts Damper on Plan to Free 2 Others.

that the fine imposed in Mrs. Kirkendall's case was a penalty and not a debt.

Atty. Charles Freehafer, representing Mrs. Williams, and Attys. Gaar and Spreng, defending Mason, said today they planned no action until after tomorrow's hearing and then it was improbable they would file habeas corpus proceedings.

It was pointed out that if Judge Huston hears the insolvency applications tomorrow he is likely to refuse to release Mrs. Williams and Mason since he already has expressed his opinion in a third similar case.

Mrs. Kirkendall, Mrs. Williams, and Mason, who were released by Probate Judge Anderson before they had served out fines imposed in municipal court for illegal possession and sale of liquor, were ordered back to jail last week-end by Municipal Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch.

Atty. Jacob Wagenhals immediately filed a habeas action for Mrs. Kirkendall's release.

When she was freed Mrs. Kirkendall had served 66 days of 344-day sentence, while Mrs. Williams served 109 days of a 346-day term and Mason 108 days of a 280-day sentence.

GUESTS PRESENT AT MEETING OF NOMADS

Mrs. John McCann Gives Paper on Maxwell Anderson; Mrs. Meisse Invites Members to Tea Room for Next Session.

SEVERAL GUESTS, Miss Mary Mather, Galion, Mrs. Louis J. Ott, and Mrs. George Searle, and one honorary member, Mrs. Frank B. Black, were present at the meeting of the Nomad club which was held at the home of Mrs. Charles Dickey, Blymyer avenue. The program was in charge of Mrs. John McCann.

She discussed Maxwell Anderson, contemporary playwright, who's first success was "What Price Glory." Mrs. McCann told her audience that the writer's reticence in interviews and scorn of the biography craze made his personal life little known. He writes in blank verse, and one of his most outstanding creations was "Winterset." He has written but one book of verse, "You Who Have Dreams."

A son of a Baptist minister he was educated at Western college, taught in California and did editorial work before beginning his career as a playwright. He is classed with Eugene O'Neill as a leading playwright of the contemporary scene.

The next meeting will be held March 21 at the Susie Janis home with Mrs. Louise A. Meisse as hostess. The program, on "Spokesmen of Humor" will be in charge of Mrs. Carvil Gorman.

Delta Sigma Zeta To Have Dance March 29

Futher plans were formulated for the Delta Sigma Zeta sorority formal yesterday evening when members of that group met at the home of Anita Smith on Marion avenue. The dance will be held from 9 until 1 o'clock in the ball room of the Mansfield-Leland hotel on March 29. Milena Miller, general chairman of the affair, announced that George Terry's orchestra will furnish the music for dancing.

The sorority is planning to have a rummage sale on March 16, with Marjorie Schwein in charge of arrangements. Informal initiation for the sorority pledges will be an event of March 27, while formal initiation ceremonies will be conducted on April 3. The place of the next regular meeting, March 20, will be announced later.

Monthly Session Held By Park Auxiliary

There were 38 members and one guest, Mrs. Sue Kosslow, Pittsburgh, Pa., present at the regular meeting of the Liberty park auxiliary which was held at the club house last night. Following the brief business meeting contests were conducted.

Winners were Mrs. George Hostetter, Mrs. Frank Faugl, Mrs. Rose Curatti, Mrs. Francis Finfgeld, Mrs. Peter Metz, Mrs. Christ Geisel. Luncheon was served at small tables decorated with Easter appointments. Mrs. Stephen Konves was in charge. The next meeting will be held April 3 with Mrs. George Meisel in charge.

Be Kind To Poor, Red Hands

By MME QUI VIVE

Are your poor hands reddened because of household duties? Are finger-nails nubby because they go chasing over the typewriter keys? Are your hands just naturally old-looking, as if they were born that way? That's bad.

Don't despair. Hands are responsive. Give them a little attention and they'll give you a pretty thank you in the form of better appearance. After all, most of them grub along all the time, one way or another.

The daily use of a hand lotion is a habit this season of the year, but more than that is necessary if hands are to keep young, smooth, white of surface. At least once a week a heavy massage cream should be frictioned into the flesh, the cuticle about the nails treated with a softening lubricant. You can use your favorite cosmetic or you can resort to cocoabutter, which is a pleasant massage agent.

Start at the finger tips, thumb the kunckles, treat the wrists, do some tip-tapping on your elbows.

Massaging the nails will keep them from breaking. It rouses the underlying blood streams that provide the pink sheath with nourishment. After putting on your nail polish, give a brisk rubbing with the palms of the hands: that is, after the veneer has dried. When applying oil to your nails, lift the surrounding cuticle with the orange wood stick so the lubricant can seep in. You will have an insurance against hangnails that are caused by the clinging of the flesh to the nail base and then shredding or breaking.

Discolorations on the hands can be helped by applications of mild bleaches that can be found on cosmetic counters. Stains picked up during the daily rounds of domestic chores can be removed by using a cut lemon. The pulp is more effective than the juice alone.

Callouses, the curse of the golfer and gardner, should be soaked in warm soap suds, frictioned lightly with a toilet pumice. The use of an oil every night, well thumbed in, will soften the hardened flesh.

Don't forget that nail polishes are getting more and more conservative in color. The flaming fire engine hue is going into the discard while the more delicate, shell-like shades are voguey. Vivid tones bring out every color defect of the skin and that's no help in the cultivation of hand appeal.

HOROSCOPE

For Friday, March 8.

A day of great expansion and culmination of high ambitions is the augury based on major planetary activities. It is a time for reaching toward advanced goals in worldly affairs, and for the attainment of the heart's desires in social, domestic, humane and friendly relationships. In the purely private domain it is likely that the feminine element will prove a decisive factor. In other directions there may be small impediments to cope with.

Those whose birthday it is are likely to encounter a year in which there are no limitations to success, happiness and achievement, except in their own restraints and restrictions. It is a time for pushing in all directions to the goal of heart's desire, and should there be a few minor frustrations, the counsel and affection of elderly women are likely.

A child born on this day may be efficient, industrious and ambitious, and also have a humane compassionate, generous and expansive character. It may enjoy a successful and happy career, one of usefulness to its fellows.

Marriage Meddlers

By ADELE GARRISON

Continuation of "Married Comrades"

There was one thing I could tell her, but to speak of it would be like roughly touching an open wound. I had nothing else, however, and I took my courage in both hands and spoke out.

"Please forgive me if what I am saying is offensive to you," I said, "but am I wrong in the impression that there has been a future for you in the south at any moment you cared to take it?"

For an instant I thought she was going to strike me, there was such anger in her face.

"You dare," she said vehemently, "to speak of that!"

"I'm sorry, Ede," I said humbly. "I know I have no right to bring that subject up, but I could not help knowing about it and you seemed so needlessly despairing just now, that I—"

Why, why, I asked myself rebelliously, could she not have returned the love of Jim Paige, the manly young chap who described himself as her "fourth or fifth cousin" and who had loved her since childhood?

Not even the knowledge of her hopeless infatuation for Dicky, and her consequent — and constant — flouting of Jim's suit, had diminished the love and the watchful care which he had lavished upon her. I had wondered sometimes if he had not been so constant and dependable a lover what Edith's reaction might have been.

But it was plain enough what her present reaction was. At least I thought it was evident, until she astounded me by flinging herself on her knees beside me, burying her head in my lap, and breaking into tempestuous sobbing.

"I don't deserve to live," she wailed. "I hurt and insult everybody who tries to help me. Why can't I die?"

He's Wedded, Should She Drop Him?

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I am 24 years of age and divorced two years. I met a man twelve years older than I, who has three children. He told me he loves me, and I love him too. He said he was going to get a divorce from his wife and marry me. That was two years ago.

The probation officer called on him and told him his wife and children were stranded in the city, so he hurried there and found everything all right, so he came back. However, since then he has not changed toward me. I've told him to go back to his wife, but he said he loved me, also his children. And he keeps on coming to see me. Please advise me. Should I drop him or let him come to see me? I know he can afford a divorce if he really wants it.

In your place I'd drop this gentleman so quickly that it would take him some time to realize what it was all about. His wife and children must be in a bad way for the probation officer to tell him they were stranded. And for him to tell you they were doing all right, probably meant that he gave them a dollar bill and some promises which he will fail to keep.

He tells you he loves his children, and that he loves you. He doesn't tell you he loves himself —the chief object of his affections. If you're not a glutton for trouble, give him the go-by.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

SAVE YOUR ENTRIES

If there is a need for all the entries you possess into the dummy, or into your own hand, you should conserve them carefully. When you find yourself in the hand which requires the lead several times, you should not waste that opportunity by leading a suit which can just as well be lead from the other hand. Use that chance for one of the leads which must come from that hand, and then lead the other suit when you find yourself with the lead opposite it.

(Dealer: East. East-West vulnerable.)

East	South	West	North
Pass	Pass	1 ♥	Dbl
Pass	1 ♠	2 ♦	2 ♥
Pass	3 ♣	Pass	3 ♠

Since this was in a duplicate tournament, North was straining to get the better score produced by a major contract as against a minor one. It happens that some pairs made 5-Clubs despite trump leads by ruffling two diamonds, discarding one on the finessed hearts, finessing spades successfully and losing only one trick in each minor. But this pair managed to go down at 3-Spades.

West led the spade 9 to the 10. South now should have finessed hearts at once, discarded a diamond on the heart A, then led the diamond J. If a spade came back, to his J, he then could have ruffed one diamond with the spade K, and thereafter would have lost only one more trick in diamonds, one to the club A and one to East's trump holding.

But South, after winning the first trick, led a diamond from his hand. When West returned a spade he finessed the heart, discarded a diamond on the heart A, but now had to shorten his own trumps with a heart ruff so he could lead a diamond for a ruff. Wasting that trump in his own hand enabled East to get two trump tricks, and so beat the contract.

Tomorrow's Problem.

(Dealer: South. East-West vulnerable.)

If West leads the heart 9 to the K and plays the 6 on the A, South playing his Q and J, how should East then know that a third heart is his safest return?

HOSPITAL TESTS REVEAL GREAT DISCOVERY FOR CONSTIPATION

At last—here's an ideal, "daily" treatment for constipation with its headaches, mental dullness, fatigue and sallow skin.

Tests in a world-famous hospital have proved a "little daily dose" of Kruschen (world-famous formula, now at last obtainable in pleasant tasting "bubbling" form) actually produces nature's own gentle, pleasant, "daily" bowel movements by keeping the waste matter in the colon moist, soft and easy to expel.

Scientists report: "Kruschen can be taken for years without having to increase the dose." Also acts as a mild Antacid and Kidney Stimulant. Gives you MORE for your money, too! A jar that costs only a trifle lasts for WEEKS. Over 245,000,000 jars have been sold thruout the world. Kruschen MUST be good—it MUST do the work! Made in U. S. A.

New Comes in Pleasant Tasting "Bubbling" Form!

KEEP STOCKING COLOR ALIVE

WITH NEW INSTANT COLD-WATER SUDS!

Women rave how new type suds keeps hosiery colors keener and brighter. Not a soap and thus contains no alkali to weaken material and fade colors. An amazing improvement on even finest soaps and soap flakes because it makes big suds in cold water.

4 VIRTUES OF VEL NOT IN ANY SOAP:

1. INSTANT SUDS IN COLD WATER
2. NO ALKALI TO FADE COLORS
3. NO COTTONY AFTER-LOOK FROM SOAP-SCUM
4. NO ACID OR ALKALI TO IRRITATE HANDS

EVERY woman knows how tough hot water and soap-scum can be on stockings, woolens, and all fine things. But here's thrilling news! Vel ... the amazing new cold-water suds perfected by Colgate-Palmolive-Peet Company ... does away with these enemies of fine fabrics.

Vel is not a soap. It is an entirely different washing principle. Vel is one hundred times as soluble as soap in cold water. Vel contains no acid or alkali to damage and fade colors and Vel leaves no soap-scum to dull colors and make silks cottony-looking. Thus, Vel is ideal for all fine fabrics, because it dissolves instantly in cold water to make mountains of billowy, cleansing suds.

See your stockings keep their delicate sheerness and fresh color amazingly longer when done in Vel's cold suds. See woolens and underwear regain bride-like freshness. Colored prints sing with radiant sparkle. Dishes and glassware glitter with highlights. See for yourself that Vel leaves no ring around the bowl. That shows no ruinous soap-scum can stay in dainty things to cause cottony after-look. So, try Vel ... the amazing, instant cold-water suds, today. Buy Vel today at any grocer's. Made and guaranteed by Colgate-Palmolive-Peet Company.

IN HARD-WATER TOWNS

U. S. Government Survey shows thousands of communities listed as "hard-water" towns. If your water is hard, Vel suds delight you more than ever because

Vel makes hardest water act soft as rainwater

Vel outlasts pure soap 2 to 1 in hardest water

Vel makes as much as 5 times more suds than expensive soap flakes in hardest water

VEL IS A NEUTRAL HYDROPHILIC DETERGENT

Try VEL AND YOU'LL NEVER GO BACK TO SOAP!

MINERS USING SCRIPT MONEY

Coupons Valid in Retail Stores Doing $650,000,000 Annual Business.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON—Miners who pay for their cakes and coffee with money based on a "coal standard" have built up a retail business totalling about $650,000,000 annually.

Their "money" is the script of the coal fields—printer coupons or stamped discs of metal that take the place of currency and coins. Each bit of the coal field money, whether in coupon or metal style, is backed by an individual coal company—the company's resources are its coal.

Originally conceived as a means of extending credit to miners between paydays, the script system has grown steadily with more and more attention paid to the operation of the company stores.

Now, on the records of the national stores association, approximately 2,600 such stores are operating and each is doing an average annual business of $250,000. At some company stores a profit sheet turns up at the end of the year showing better returns than came from the mine.

The script system reaches, too, into textile and lumber industries, where company stores some times supply the needs of employers.

HALIFAX OPENS HUTS TO SERVE ARMED FORCES

Ample Shelter Provided With Recreation Facilities for Allied Troops.

(By United Press)

HALIFAX, N. S.—Shelter, recreation, baths, reading and writing materials—these, in that order, are the prime needs of Canadian soldiers, sailors and fliers, when on leave. In the East, where of all Canada, the war effort is most apparent, these needs are being attended to with efficiency, it is revealed.

The buildings taken over here by various organizations to be turned into hostels for the thousands of men in all services, are built on spacious lines. A former girls' boarding school, a commodious club, a church building, these are some of the places recently redecorated and fitted out for the services.

Pooling the funds provided by the National Council of the Y. M. C. A., the National Red Cross society, the government and others, committees made up of citizens, are operating the Y. M. C. A. hostel, the Salvation Army hostel, the Knights of Columbus hut, as well as small canteens and rest rooms.

Beds for 25 Cents.

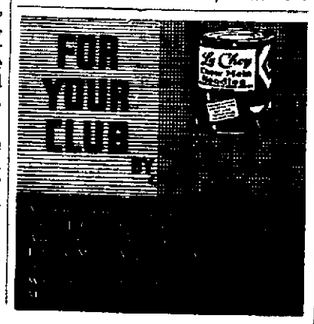
Where beds are provided, the men pay 25 cents for the night, and get food at canteens cheaper than at restaurants. The men gather in the recreation rooms where books and magazines are available, and all kinds of small games can be enjoyed. The hostels do not stop at checkers, and cards, however, but provide gymnasiums for basketball, volleyball and ping pong.

When the men register at the hostels and before they turn in, they leave word when they must be called, and in all cases those in charge see to it that the call is put in effectively. Since the middle of December when the Army hut was formally opened, 1,900 men have slept there, and there has never been a case of a man late for duty. The same can be said of the Y. M. C. A. which to date has taken care of some 4,000 men overnight.

All Services Accommodated.

The "Y" has accommodation for 500 men overnight, but the average so far has not exceeded 200. It is for all allied services, including the merchant marine, members of which are vouched for by the Navy league. Petty officers and N.C.O.'s are housed on an upper floor with their own reading and writing room which has been furnished comfortably by the women's auxiliary committee. In the bright and pleasant Army canteen, are two radios, a grand piano, a pianola, easy chairs and lounges, tables and desks, and a general air of quiet and comfort.

Amateur theatricals and concerts are more numerous at the Y.M.C.A. hostels and at the Knights of Columbus hut than in the other places. Townspeople with talent are on the alert to provide entertainment, but the men harbor no little talent among themselves, so that shows, singsongs, and skits take up many evenings. The old songs seem to hold their popularity with the men, and "Tipperary" is still shouted as it was, in huts and hostels during the World war.



ALL WAS CONFUSION

SPRINGFIELD, O.—(AP)—Isabel Tracy observed two signs over a first-aid station door. One read "First Aid," and the other just below, read, "Stay Out."

Davey Agrees to be Delegate, Pledged to Roosevelt

EX-GOVERNOR ACCEPTS BID FROM LIMBACH

Makes Announcement While One Foe for Nomination Quits Field.

(By United Press)

COLUMBUS—Former Gov. Martin L. Davey, who has berated the New Deal on numerous occasions, today agreed to serve as a delegate-at-large to the Democratic national convention, pledged to support the president for renominatoon if he runs.

Davey disclosed that State Chairman Arthur L. Limbach had asked him to become one of the 16 candidates for delegate-at-large, each of whom will have one-half vote.

"I told him I would go if they want me," the former governor commented. Davey only yesterday announced that he was a candidate for the gubernatorial nomination again.

Reporters asked him whether his acceptance of the offer meant that he no longer harbored grievances against the national administration with which he was at odds frequently when he served as governor. To their questions he replied:

"I have nothing to say on that."

Davey denied that he had any intention of eleminating himself eventually from the Democratic gubernatorial contest. It had been reported that he might do so to consolidate party forces in a harmony move later on in the primary campaign.

The field of candidates for the party nomination was reduced by one, however, when Lawrence Baker, Columbus, a WPA employe, who had taken out nominating petitions, withdrew. His action left seven other men in the field. Baker said he favored the Davey candidacy.

No Opposition Looms.

Democratic National Committeeman Charles Sawyer was expected to announce today the full organization list of candidates for delegates and alternates-at-large. It appeared likely that at this late date with only eight days remaining before the deadline for filing petitions that the organization plan would meet no opposition in the May 14 primary election.

Sawyer is the nominal "favorite son" and Con Mulcahy, Akron, the nominal second choice, but the delegation will be bound to support Mr. Roosevelt if he consents to become a candidate.

Ohio Chamber To Conduct Its Third Washington March

COLUMBUS — (U.P.) — The Ohio Chamber of Commerce announced today that it would conduct a third annual "industrial march on Washington" March 29, to discuss pending legislation with members of the Ohio congressional delegation.

The conference will be sponsored jointly by the state chamber and the local chambers throughout the state. The chamber said 300 business men would participate.

A. Graves Williams, Portsmouth, president of the Ohio Chamber said subjects tentatively selected for discussion with congressmen included:

1. Reorganization of the national labor relations board and "other amendments to the Wagner act."

2. Reduction of the federal budget by at least 20 per cent and "making correspondent tax adjustments."

3. The Logan-Walter bill prescribing uniform rules for administrative offices and making their decisions subject to judicial review.

At a dinner meeting F. C. Crawford, president of the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce, will be the principal speaker.

MRS. GIBSON, 54, TAKEN BY DEATH

Crawford Woman Stricken After Illness of Two Weeks.

BUCYRUS — Mrs. Austie Blanche Gibson, 54, wife of Mervin J. Gibson, died at her home in Whetstone township last night after a two-week illness.

She was born in Morrow county Aug. 1, 1885.

Besides her husband she is survived by her mother, Mrs. Caroline Seib, Morrow county; three children, Mrs. Herbert Bruce, of Reading, Pa., and Ralph and Russell at home; a brother, Carl Seib, Galion; and a sister, Mrs. Robert Cronenwett, also of Galion.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday at the Wise funeral home with Rev. David Mumford officiating. Burial will be in Oakwood cemetery.

Up and Down THE STREET

There always will be one souvenir of the Johnny Appleseed Junior high school dedication Tuesday night that long will be treasured by school officials, and that is a recording of the ceremonies. Three double records made of the programs in the auditorium by the Senior high school's recording equipment, will be put among the school's souvenirs. The records include the talks of Supt. W. L. Miller, Principal Glenn Rohleder, Dr. C. B. Allen, the dedication speaker, as well as music by the school orchestra.

A letter carrier in Mansfield's downtown area probably heard the old joke today about not knowing his own strength. He was carrying his right hand in bandages, all because he pushed his arm through a glass door yesterday on East Third street. He explained that he approached the door with his mind on something else, gave the glass a big push, and went on through it before he realized it was locked.

It was spring, sure enough, today at the new Johnny Appleseed Junior high school. Not only did the first day of sunshine light up the while building, but many baskets of spring flowers left over from the dedication Tuesday night, were harbingers of spring. They were yellow jonquils and pink tulips, roses and snapdragons and gladioli and pussy willows. The flowers were sent by firms that had a part in construction of the new buildings as wel as individuals.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Ignatius Schmitzer and Mrs. Bruce, both of Mansfield; two sons, Martin and John Schiller of Dickinson, N. D., 26 grandchildren and 30 great-grandchildren.

The body will remain at the home of the daughter. Funeral services will be held at 9:30 a. m. Saturday at St. Peter's Catholic church with Msgr. R. C. Goebel officiating. Burial will be in Mansfield Catholic cemeetry.

OCEOLA MAN, 82, TAKEN BY DEATH

David Schlosser Succumbs After Suffering Stroke.

BUCYRUS — David Schlosser, 82, died at City hospital last night, where he had been taken following a stroke suffered at his home in Oceola, six miles west of here.

The aged man, who lived alone, was found unconscious on the floor of his home by neighbors yesterday and was brought here by Sheriff Albert French.

He was born in Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 1, 1857. His wife died in 1923. He is survived by a brother, Joseph, residing in Harrisburg.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday at the Henderson and Lutz funeral home. Rev. J. H. Patterson will officiate and burial will be made in Oakwood.

METCALF TO RUN

Former State Senator Seeks Court of Appeals Post.

PORTSMOUTH —(INS)— Verner E. Metcalf, of Marietta, chairman of the BUC board of review, today formally entered the race for the Republican nomination for judge of the fourth district court of appeals by filing petitions with the Scioto county board of elections.

Metcalf, a former state senator, is seeking the six-year term to succeed Judge Peter Bosser, of Chillicothe, who is retiring. Opposing Metcalf for the nomination is Judge W. R. White of Gallipolis.

be a German aerial attack on a group of ships.

Some of the vessels sent out SOS signals, whereupon a number of British fighting planes roared out to sea.

BUCHAREST, Rumania—(U.P.)—King Carol told parliament today that Rumania would stand firm in defense of her political and commercial neutrality and against any threat to her frontiers.

The strictest rules of international law will be observed, the king said, in order to maintain equality in trade with other countries and assure Rumania of an ample supply of armaments and raw materials.

The king did not refer specifically to Rumania's struggle to satisfy both German and allied demands for Rumanian oil.

Determination to defend Rumanian frontiers was regarded as significant in connection with claims by Hungary, Bulgaria and Soviet Russia against Rumanian territory.

BERLIN —(INS)— Several British warplanes penetrated the German (Helgoland) bight and reached the Reich's western coast and another approached Sylt via Denmark, the German high command's war communique said today.

"There was nothing worthwhile on the western front," the announcement said.

"The German air force continued to reconnoiter over England.

"Several British airplanes penetrated the German bight and reached the northwest coast. One British plane approached Sylt via Denmark."

The communique was intended to convey that the British plane had violated Danish neutrality.

EYE-WITNESS DESCRIBES GUN DUEL IN CLEVELAND MURDER

(By Associated Press)

CLEVELAND—A jury of nine women and three men today studied testimony of an eyewitness that Special Policeman Theodore Nichols fired the first shot in his fatal gun duel with John L. McCormick, 21-year-old University of Pittsburgh student.

The state opened its case yesterday in the trial of the youth, charged with first-degree murder in the Jan. 8 holdup slaying at the Western Union Telegraph company's main office near the busy intersection of Euclid avenue and East Ninth street.

"Ac McCormick drew his gun from his pocket, Nichols fired," said Ernest J. Pfeiffer, assistant manager of the office. "There was a rapid exchange of shots a fraction of a second apart. Just like a flash it was over."

The jury also heard a description of the duel by Abe Lettofsky, night manager, who testified Nichols and McCormick stood face to face three feet apart during the shooting.

Witnesses testified the two met as the youth was leaving with a haul of $198. McCormick fled after the shooting and was captured by police following a chase through downtown streets.

The state is demanding the death penalty for the youth, who comes from a well-to-do Pittsburgh family.

James C. Connell, defense counsel, asked the jury to free McCormick on grounds of insanity. He said the youth was neglected by his family and suffered a "suicide complex."

McCormick had said his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Woods McCormick, paid all his school expenses, and provided him with $20 a week spending money and a new automobile each year.

READY FOR RUSH

Income Tax Office Adds Two Workers, Extends Hours.

Preparing for the usual last minute rush to file income tax reports, the internal revenue department today had added two men to the staff of its Mansfield office in the postoffice building and had extended its hours.

The deadline for filing returns is midnight March 15. Assisting Charles Mosey and Albert Wentz, the regular tax collectors for Mansfield and vicinity, are J. W. Seitz of Mansfield, and Lynn Mueller of the Cleveland internal revenue office.

The office will be open from 8:45 a. m. to 4 p. m. this week, and will remain open Saturday afternoon. Next week it will be open until 4:30 each day and until 9 p. m. on March 15.

An increase in the number of persons filing this year was reported due to the new Public Salary act which was passed last summer and is retroactive to Jan. 1, 1939. For the first time all city, county and state employes, as well as school employes, must file returns.

FOES OF PLAN TO REVISE LAW LOSE IN TEST

Barkley Predicts Passage of Measure to Extend Political Ban to State Workers.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — Although beaten in a crucial test vote, senate opponents of legislation broadening the Hatch "Anti-Politics" law were making a last-stab effort to kill it today.

They failed narrowly late yesterday to put across a proposal by Senator Miller (D.-Ark.) which would have wiped out some existing restrictions against "voluntary political activity by federal employes.

Democratic ranks were split by the 44-41 vote, even after senate leader Barkley (D.-Ky.) argued that an affirmative vote would hurt his party's chances in the November election.

Barkley said the tally clearly indicated approval today for the legislation by Senator Hatch (D.-NM) extending the ban on political activity of about 250,000 state workers paid in part by federal funds.

The opponents, headed by Senators Minton (D.-Ind) and Lucas (D.-Ill), decided to ask first that the Hatch legislation be returned to the election committee "for further study." If carried, the motion would kill the proposal for this session.

"There is a pretty general feeling that this bill was hastily considered and poorly drafted," Minton declared. "It has a lot of extremely bad features."

Hatch Gratified.

Hatch expressed gratification over yesterday's vote, declaring that it enabled the Democrats "to go into the campaign with a clean record."

"If the vote had been otherwise," he added, "I am confident we would have lost hundreds of thousands of votes."

The senate debate provoked some of the most fiery oratory of this session.

The Miller proposal was not the only one which created a flurry. Senator Danaher (R.-Conn) offered an amendment providing that a state-federal employe could appeal to the courts if the civil service commission decided he had engaged in political activity.

The amendment was ruled defeated on a standing vote yesterday, but Republican leader McNary called the count "obviously erroneous." Leaders agreed to have a roll call vote today.

TRAPPED 1 HOUR

Youth Freed From Wrecked Car as Firemen Use Torches.

COLUMBUS — (AP) — With his skull fractured and one hand badly mangled, Denis Reynolds, 22, remained conscious an hour early today while firemen with acetylene torches freed him from twisted automobile wreckage — and then he fainted.

"We had to use hydraulic jacks to lift the top off him," related Fire Capt. W. J. Lewis. "He was conscious, but apparently the shock had numbed him. He talked a little, telling his arm and legs hurt. He didn't know how badly he had been injured."

Reynolds is near death in University hospital. William Schluter, 22, died three hours after the car skidded and overturned.

ASHLAND NATIVE DIES AT AGE 82

Attorney Locke Had Been For 58 Years Member of Bar.

ASHLAND — Atty. Marshall P. W. Locke, 82, a native of Ashland, died here yesterday.

Born March 12, 1857 in Ashland, Mr. Locke had lived in Indianapolis, Ind. until several years ago when he returned to Ashland. He was admitted to the bar in 1882 in Indiana, and attended Phillips Exeter academy at Andover, Mass.

He is survived by a number of nieces and nephews, including Atty. J. L. Mason of Ashland. Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Friday at the Mowrey funeral home with Rev. H. E. Andrews, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiating. Burial will be in Ashland cemetery.

The Voice of BROADWAY

—By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

The Song Sellers.

On Broadway a song plugger is a fellow whose lunch hour at Lindy's lasts from noon until 3 a. m., whose jargon is a special blend of jive and corn, and who is the reason why currently you can't dial a radio without hearing "South of the Border."

There are 285 such citizens of Tin Pan Alley who toil to merchandise our melodies, to send a tune from the oblivion of a songwriter's briefcase to the music racks of every bandstand in America, the turntables of every phonograph and the tonsils of every torch singer.

They furnish most of the laughs in the jazz business. And they exert the greatest single influence on the music you dance to.

As an organization they are known as the Professional Music Men, and they hate to be called song pluggers. Call them, please, "contact men." All they want is to hear their tunes played where the men make music.

Most of them have the same technique, with the exception of a few of the more imaginative boys who get colorful in their salesmanship.

They go up to bandleaders like Benny Goodman or Guy Lombardo or Kay Kyser or Everett Hoagland and chortle: "Boy, I've got a terrific tune here," or "This is another 'Deep Purple'," or "This one is made to order for you."

Most maestros see the song pluggers only while they're leading the band. Some easy-going batoneers like Abe Lyman are willing to talk business over their borscht and crumpets, which is why the contact men lie in wait in Lindy's all the day long.

Fred Waring, who is on the air five days a week, is so busy he now gives a luncheon every Wednesday at the Broadway and 55th street Automat, where the boys can contact him commercially.

The song plugging craft has its own glossary of expressions. A "dog" is a no-good song. A "jingle" is a light fluffy number. ("In An Old Dutch Garden" is a current jingle.) "Kola" is what they call a small-timer or second-rater. "Terrific" is almost the only adjective used by a contact man to describe his wares. A "payola" is an orchestra leader or vocalist who demands money or expensive presents for plugging a song on the air.

A "rocking chair number" is a hit song, a natural—and the song plugger can just sit back in his rocking chair, and listen to the anxious bandleaders playing the tune they're crazy about without urging . . . "He threw me a curve" means that a leader promised to use a tune and didn't.

Song pluggers have their favorite bandleaders, and the two they all adore are Sammy Kaye and Guy Lombardo, who are considered the fairest and best judges of the commercial value of a song. They don't care anything about a song except "will the public like it?"

Swing bandleaders don't mean as much to the contact men as the pilots with sweet bands because the jive boys are inclined to think "Honeysuckle Rose" swings as well as anything written in the last 10 years, and they're not anxious for new tunes.

There is a legend in Tin Pan Alley that one song plugger of the pre-radio era got a bandleader to play his song-of-the-moment by sheer and expensive ingenuity. The leader thought the song was terrible, and was sure it wouldn't be a hit. The plugger had to make sure it would. So he hired stooges to follow the bandleader around, whistling the melody, and he bribed the bellhops at the fellow's hotel to hum it when they brought the icewater, and he paid the elevator boys $5 a day to whistle the tune going up and down.

Finally the leader decided the song had caught on with the public in such a big way he just had to play it—so he started. And the fable says that the song was "Margie" and the conductor was Paul Whiteman.

There is a great camaraderie between the orchestra pilots and the song pluggers, which manifests itself in varied ways. If you tune into a sustaining program starring an orchestra in a local hotel it's a good bet that the loudest clapping and phoney whistling comes from the pluggers.

Most "contact men" play golf because most bandleaders do, and it's a good idea to sell them tunes on the links. Most contact men stay up until all hours in the triple deck sandwich places for the same reason.

It was to Eddy Duchin that one plugger moaned about his late hours and the time he had wasted attending private parties in the more platinum sections of Westchester.

"I've heard of society orchestras," commented Duchin, "but this is the first time I ever met a society song plugger!"

But the classic Tin Pan Alley story remains the one about the time a song plugger begged Joe Frisco to do "Darktown Strutters' Ball" in his act—which was then one of the top turns in vaudeville.

Joe agreed to try it out at one of the swank Morris Bagley concerts then being held at the Waldorf-Astoria for the benefit of the World war soldiers. As he was about to go on a stagehand told him he was following Enrico Caruso and Frisco walked up to the great tenor.

"Say, l-l-look here, Caruso," Frisco suttered, "I'm f-f-following you on this bill. L-l-l-ay off 'Darktown Strutters' Ball,' w-w-will you?"

Hollywood Speaks---

—By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Eddie Polo. Did you get the name? It used to be big.

It used to be a name that drew the kids—of all ages—into the flicker houses in weekly homage. Eddie was the serial king. How that boy could tear through a villain, ride a horse, leap off a cliff, step a buzz-saw, dive and swim—all in the famous nick!

"I still can," says Eddie Polo today. "I could, I mean, if I had the chance. . . ."

Twenty years have written their story on the one-time adventure hero's face and form. He's a bit heavier. His black hair is shot with grey. And his eyes are sad, even when he smiles.

He now wears a ship's officer's uniform on a set for Deanna Durbin's "It's a Date." It's his first film work in the six months he has been back in Hollywood, looking for work in a town where once his name was big. Joe Pasternak, the producer, hired him. Once Eddie worked for Pasternak in Europe, when the producer was in charge of Universal's foreign films.

It was 27 years ago that Eddie Polo, American-born of Italian parents, left the circus for the movies. It was 20 years ago, making a picture called "Dangerous Hour," that Eddie met one of the thousand and one dangerous hours of his career—and lost.

"I jumped a horse off a cliff, and I miscued," he says. "They picked me up in a basket. It was several years before I recovered. I went to Europe, made pictures in Germany, worked in Spain and England. I left Germany in 1933, when Hitler came. I went to Vienna, then Hitler came there. Again I fled. Before the Nazis came to power, I had not been politically discreet.

"I must start over now. I can train down in short time so I can do all my old stunts. I know I can do it, if I have the chance. . . ."

Remember Eddie Polo and Marie Walcamp in "Liberty"? Marie is dead now. Remember Eddie Polo and Francis Ford and Grace Cunard in "The Broken Coin"? Jack Holt was in it, too—Jack who kept on to stardom and retained it. Grace Cunard lives in a little house in the valley, married to a western actor, and Francis Ford is a busy character actor. Eddie Polo, the circus lad, is stocky and greying and looking for a chance.

PLEADS FOR CONVICTS

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Dr. John B. C. Eckstrom of the Ohio penitentiary staff appealed today for donations of discharged spectacle frames and lenses. He said 30 to 40 convicts needed glasses, and many others should have lens replacements.

FIGHT FOR LOVE + + + + + + +

CHAPTER XIII

Suddenly Star realized that Wood was speaking and she had not heard a word.

"I'm sorry, Mr Wood. Will you please say that again?"

She imagined he looked at her sympathetically as if he suspected what dreams had been dashed by the mere sight of the picture on his desk. But he couldn't have guessed how she idealized him. He couldn't possibly know what an important place he held in her otherwise empty life.

Never had Star found it more difficult to keep her mind on her work than she did that day. And she had looked forward to it for such a long time. She sat in the privileged place outside his office and tried to laugh at herself but without success.

That night she decided he might be married but he wasn't happy. It couldn't be her imagination that at the time he had been so kind to her on the yacht harbor pier he had returned from a week's vacation reluctantly. She hadn't dreamed that.

Star, who had never been romantic about any man before, began to picture him in all sorts of difficulties. In her dreams that night he came to her and admitted that he was miserable. She could not rid her mind of the idea that he was both lonely and unhappy.

The next day his secretary was still absent. After her troubled slumber, Star's face was paler than usual. She felt ill at ease and embarrassed as she greeted him. It hurt her to find him so cheerful. He seemed in the best of spirits as he said good morning. Such a mood was not assumed. Star told herself she was a fool. Falling in love with her boss, even if he were not married, would never get her anywhere. If she wanted to keep her job, which she certainly did, she had better put all such crazy notions as she had been having out of her mind.

Then in the midst of a busy morning his wife telephoned.

Star heard him say, "Yes, honey! Of course! Any time! I'll be here all afternoon."

She was coming into the office. Star would see her. And if she had had any doubt as to whether or not Milton Wood loved his wife, this conversation would have dispelled it.

Star worked in a state of suppressed excitement, longing yet dreading to see this woman who must be the luckiest wife in the world. She hesitated over going to lunch for fear Mrs Wood might come while she was gone, but in the afternoon Star had not long to wait. It was just two-thirty when the operator at the information desk announced that Mrs Wood was on her way. Star's eyes were glued to the door. When it opened to admit the lady of the picture, she said quietly, "Good afternoon, Mrs. Wood!"

Jennifer Wood nodded and swept into the inner office. The connecting door was left open and Star could hear their voices. His kind and affectionate. Her's seductively sweet.

"Milk darling, you know what I want?"

"I can imagine," he laughed. "You seldom favor me with a visit for any other reason."

"That's not true," she pouted. "I would be down here every day if I thought you wanted me. But how much time do you have in this busy place for poor little me?"

"Not much," he admitted. "But enough to tell you that you are looking very lovely."

"Do you think so, Milton, really?"

"Darling, you should see me in the mink cape I found this morning. It's exactly what I've been wanting."

"Well, why don't you get it?"

"May I? Oh, Milton, I hoped you would say that. But you see I can't possibly pay for it out of my allowance."

He sighed, "All right, charge it to me."

"Darling, you are the sweetest person in the world. I'm positively mad about you."

"How can a mink cape mean so much to you?" he inquired curiously.

"It means everything to me," she confessed. "I've wanted one like this all my life."

Neither of them seemed to care whether or not the secretary in the outer office heard them. Realizing this, Star told herself it was because she didn't matter. She was just a piece of the machinery in that huge plant. No more important than one of the dictaphones.

Her cheeks flushed hotly and when Mrs. Wood floated out on a wave of perfume Star did not even look up.

"I would be ashamed to have any one hear me begging for anything like that," she thought.

From the beginning Star did not like Jennifer and while she could doubt the affectionate tenderness in her employer's voice she had also sensed the disappointment.

The little scene had its advantage, however. It put an end to Star's dreams. Milton Wood was no longer enthroned in her heart. He was a fine man, one of the most interesting as well as the kindest she had ever known, but he was Jennifer's husband. She could no longer think of him except as married to a woman who made him pay for her caresses. And being a sensible girl as well as a pretty one, Star told herself that she needed more companionship.

She had held herself aloof from the other young people at the boarding house, preferring to read in her room, but now she realized that in every book she read she had been substituting herself as the heroine and Milton Wood as hero. Leading an imaginary life instead of a real one. She decided to put an end to that by asking one of the girls to go to a movie with her that very night.

Once determined upon a course, Star never hesitated. The girl sitting next to her at dinner had an engagement, but one of the boys, hearing Star's request, asked eagerly, "How about going with me instead?"

She had paid no attention to him before but she saw now that he was a nice looking chap with a decisive manner and clean-cut features, and she accepted.

It was typical of Star's entire life that although she had asked another girl to go with her to a movie, she was accompanied by a member of the masculine sex. Clifford Payne had not hesitated. He seemed to have been waiting for just such an opportunity. Other girls might spend long hours wondering how to rouse the interest and win the attentions of men. Star never gave it a thought. She didn't have to. Her beauty with its added lure of sadness was an attraction few men could resist. Yet the strange part about it was that she herself had never been really interested in any one except Milton Wood, who was perhaps the one man in her acquaintance who was unattainable.

On the way to the theater Clifford said, "Gosh, what a break! We had decided you must be engaged or something."

Star asked in surprise, "Why?"

"You were so darned aloof," he reminded her. "I suppose you don't know that every man in the boarding house has been wanting a date with you."

She smiled.

"I don't believe that. You are exaggerating."

"Oh, no, I'm not. We couldn't make up our minds whether your indifference was a bait or the real thing."

"I haven't meant to be indifferent," she assured him. "I have had a lot of other things on my mind."

"That was obvious. I hope you've got rid of them, and for a selfish reason. I want to see more of you."

CREDIT SCHOOL PATROLS WITH SAVING 62,000

Children Spared by Traffic Safety Education, National Association Says.

(By Associated Press)

ST. LOUIS — The familiar "school boy patrols" and similar methods of safety education in the nation's public schools were credited recently with having spared the lives of at least 62,000 children in 16 years.

This estimate, together with conclusions that "accidents are preventable through education," was contained in an official yearbook released at the opening of the National Educational association convention here.

Publication of the 544-page volume marks the association's first formal recognition of organized safety education. It has been carried on in the schools since 1922, but the N.E.A. had not previously taken a hand, officially.

The study covers a 16-year period between 1922 and 1938, during which time traffic fatalities among adults were said to have increased 160 per cent, while fatalities among school children decreased 25 per cent.

The book—it is filled with statistics to back up conclusions—states this fine record among school children "must be largely due" to teaching them how to cross the street, how to play safely, and generally protect themselves from injury.

The time has come, the book continues, for the community, and particularly the schools, to teach youths to be "safe and intelligent" operators of motor cars.

Urge Early Training.

"While a person's best record at the steering wheel is made after years of experience," it says, "a good educational and training program for beginners would enable them to acquire in a short time the skill which the untutored autoist takes years of trial and error to attain."

A suggestion is made that if a small portion of the tax collected on gasoline were used for driver training, "the money might pay larger dividends."

Other interesting observations in the book:

Three-fifths of all accident fatalities occur on the open road.

The pedestrian hazard appears to be largely due to lack of understanding of the driving problem. Statistics show 13 per cent of the pedestrians killed had been drinking.

Sixty per cent of the fatal accidents occur at night during the period when only about one-third of the driving is done.

The direct economic loss due to accidents in 1938 was $3,300,000,000.

The automobile is far safer per passenger-mile traveled than the old horse and buggy.

Students To Vie For Prizes In Sermon Contest

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—(NS)—There are contests and contests, but Butler University has chosen sermons as the basis for its latest competition.

Dr. Frederick D. Kershner, Dean of the Butler College of Religion, announced a $100 written sermon contest for his students under sponsorship of the Caleb Davies' Benevolent Trust, of Detroit, Mich.

The contest will be held during the present semester and awards for first, second and third places will be made before June.

The sermons will be written on the Gospel as defined in I. Corinthians 15, 1-4 and $50 will be given for first place, $25 for second place and $10 for third place. Three $5 awards will be given for honorable mention.

The Caleb Davies' Benevolent Trust represents a portion of the estate of the late Caleb Davies, the proceeds of which are to be used "to promote the gospel as it is defined in I. Corinthians 15, 1-4." Judges are to be appointed by the college of religion faculty and the trust members. Winners will be announced at commencement time.

"Weak, Nervous From Stomach Distress-Hard to Sleep or Eat"

Well-Known Ohio Lady Then Tried "Williams Formula" and This Remarkable Medicine Gave True Relief—Her Nervous Condition Improved, She Gained Strength, Now She Can Eat and Sleep Better.

If YOU are suffering from weak, nervous, run-down "all in" feeling, stomach distress and loss of appetite, due to over-acidity, gas, bloat or constipation, then, by all means, try "Williams Formula." It may be JUST THE THING YOU NEED to get back that good feeling of pep and energy—with zest for food, ambition for work, and enjoyment of pleasure.

Praise For "Williams Formula"

From Coast to Coast users praise "Williams Formula" for its remarkable benefits. Read this TRUE STATEMENT by Mrs. Ben Frolley, 507 Virginia Ave., Ashland, Ohio. (Photo above). Mrs. Frolley has lived in Ashland 21 years and is widely known in the vicinity.

READ THIS AMAZING EXPERIENCE

Mrs. Ben Frolley, well-known Ohio lady, says: "For some time I have suffered with distressing stomach pains—certain things I would eat would cause them to be worse and about 10 o'clock each night I suffered so I could not sleep. I was so weak and nervous all the time. At last I stopped all the remedies I had been using and obtained a bottle of "Williams Formula." After starting with "Williams Formula" I began to improve and today I can eat, and I am relieved of these distressing pains. My nervous condition has improved and I have gained strength. It is a great pleasure to be able to eat and sleep better and feel like a new person, and I certainly give the praise to Williams Formula."

WHAT IS "WILLIAMS FORMULA"

"Williams Formula is a compound of VITAL HERBAL EXTRACTS and MINERALS which helps lazy bowels to expel foul waste matter; aids appetite and digestion; helps ease out gas and bloat from the stomach and intestine; and even relieves acid-irritated kidneys — besides assisting the blood with Iron. ALL THESE FINE ACTIONS IN ONE MEDICINE. Physicians know that such a combination gives benefits which cannot be obtained from a laxative alone, and that is why so many doctors recommend a combination such as "Williams Formula."

THINK WHAT ALL THIS MAY MEAN TO YOU!

In a vast percentage of cases, dizziness, nervousness, sluggishness, and that weak, run-down "all in" feeling, are caused by over-acidity and poor elimination. Beware these symptoms! Start taking "Williams Formula" at once! "Williams Formula" costs only a few cents a day to take, and it may mean more to your Health and Happiness than can be measured in money alone. Come to our store today and get a bottle of this remarkable medicine. WE RECOMMEND IT.

SCIENCE MAKES NEW DISCOVERY

X-Rays Produce New Forms of Indium, All Equal to Radium; Industry Benefitted.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK — A new feat in alchemy, by which x-rays produced three new forms of the metal indium, each of the trio equivalent to radium, was announced recently by the American Institute of Physics

Indium, worth $30 an ounce, silver-white, softer than lead, is so potentially valuable to industry that new sources of supply are sought. Alloyed with precious metals, it gives corrosion resistance, prevents tarnish of silver and makes good false teeth.

The new radio-active forms may be useful in medicine. They were created out of ordinary indium in the new electrostatic generator of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The generator is two huge, hollow metal pillars, their tops connected. One column builds up electrical potentials to more than 1,000,000 volts, and the other discharges this energy, down a vacuum tube 30 feet long.

A sheet of silver indium was placed at the bottom of this long tube, in a cup of spun gold, cooled by running water X-rays, produced a few inches above the indium, made no visable change in the metal.

But detectors placed near the indium after the x-rays were shut off, showed that the metal was giving off invisible rays like radium. Depending on the voltages of the x-rays, three different forms of this radio-active indium were produced

The fact that x-rays will make an alchemy change in indium was discovered recently at Notre Dame university. But there the rays, of different power, produced a different form of indium than those at M. I. T.

BUCYRUS—George Richendollar, Water street, arranged to pay by installments a $100 fine and costs assessed against him on a drunken driving charge, Wednesday, when he was arraigned before Mayor William Whiteamire. He was arrested Tuesday night

Head of the Class— and fit to be Tried!

THERE are a lot of things about this stunning 1940 Buick to claim your attention — that is, if you really want to know what's what in motorcars.

For instance, you've got to admit that its style has done a lot to brighten up and beautify the boulevards.

And, from the way folks are swinging over to Buick, it must have something value-wise that's important for you to measure.

What you hear about its quick-off-the-mark engine and the silkiness it gets from balancing after assembly certainly calls for inquiry.

So do the rave notices BuiCoil Springing gets and the talk you hear about five-foot front seat room in the SUPER and its Foamtex cushions soft as a down puff.

But skipping this — even skipping the fact that Buick's prices are lower than some sixes — there's one thing that alone is enough to send you hot-footing to your Buick dealer.

That's the obvious fact that as Buick goes these days so goes the industry.

It set this year's pace last year — and right now it is plainly the car others will be like "some day."

So do the obvious thing. Go try out this superb traveler.

Even if you don't discover that Buick is an immediate "must," you'll decide you'll never be really happy till you have one.

Prices Begin at $895 for Business Coupe — Sedan prices start at $955 — *delivered at Flint, Mich. Transportation based on rail rates, state and local taxes (if any), optional equipment and accessories — extra. Prices subject to change without notice.
